PHIL MARTELLI

Head Coach - 22nd Season

- 2004 Consensus National Coach of the Year •
- Four-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year •
- Past President, NABC Board of Directors •

In 21 seasons as head coach at Saint Joseph's, Phil Martelli has built a program that is consistently one of the top in the conference, a perennial postseason participant and a key player on the national scene. In doing so, he has earned his place among the top coaches in the school's storied history and has become one of the more respected coaches in the game.

Martelli is the Hawks' all-time leader in career victories with a mark of 403-273. Setting the school record for wins in a season (30) in 2004, Martelli has guided SJU to 20 or more victories nine times in 21 seasons, which is the most for any Hawks' coach. His record of 198-142 in Atlantic 10 play is the most conference wins for any active coach and ranks second all-time in the league.

Seven of Martelli's players have reached the NBA, with three First Round draft picks - DeAndre' Bembry (2016), Jameer Nelson (2004) and Delonte West (2004) - and a second-round selection Ahmad Nivins (2009). Dwayne Jones and Ronald Roberts, Jr. each had NBA stints while undrafted free agent Langston Galloway earned All-Rookie Second Team honors with the New York Knicks in 2014-15. Nelson (Denver), Galloway (New Orleans) and Bembry (Atlanta) are currently playing in the NBA.

Martelli has been at his best when it counts the most as his 18 postseason wins (7 NCAA, 11 NIT) are the most in school history. He has taken SJU to the postseason in four of the last five years, and 13 times in his 21 seasons at SJU.

Saint Joseph's 2015-16 team made its mark as one of the best in school history, compiling a 28-8 record for the second-most victories for a Hawk team. SJU won its second A-10 title in three seasons and advanced to the NCAA Second Round for the first time since 2004. Martelli, who recorded his 400th career win, earned Big 5 Coach of the Year honors as the Hawks were the third most improved team in the nation. He also had two of the best players in the league, as DeAndre' Bembry was the A-10 Player of the Year and Isaiah Miles was the Most Improved Player, with both earning All-Conference honors.

Family: Wife, Judy; children - Phil, Jr., Jimmy, Elizabeth; daughters-in-law Meghan and Julie; son-in-law Patrick Jeffries; grandsons Philip Stephen and Nolan; granddaughters Marra, Avery, Brynley, and Madalyn.

He has also served the game of basketball as a Past President of the NABC's Board of Directors as well as a being a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Ethics Coalition. In 2016, he was honored with the Gene Bartow Award by CollegeInsider.com for outstanding achievement and contributions to the game.

The 2014-15 Hawks were challenged after losing three All-Conference players from the 2014 A-10 champion team, but saw the emergence of sophomore DeAndre' Bembry as one of the league's top players, as he topped the A-10 in scoring and earned All-Conference First Team honors.

In 2013-14, Martelli and his veteran team turned in one of the more memorable seasons in school history, adding another A-10 Championship to his résumé. The Hawks, led by seniors Langston Galloway, Halil Kanacevic and Ronald Roberts, Jr., won 20 of 26 games from mid-December and captured the school's third conference title and its first since 1997. SJU went 24-10 and reached the NCAA Tournament for the sixth time under Martelli, falling to eventual national champion Connecticut in overtime.

The 2012-13 season saw an experienced squad reach the Atlantic 10 Quarterfinals and earn a second consecutive NIT bid, for the 11th postseason berth in Martelli's career. Among the highlights of the season was a win over nationally-ranked Notre Dame in the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic, a victory over local rival Temple and two wins over conference foe Xavier.

In 2011-12, Martelli and the Hawks became one of nine teams in the nation to win 20 games after losing 20 the previous season, and returned to the postseason with an NIT bid. SJU boasted a young and exciting squad, and one of the most balanced in school history, as five different players received Atlantic 10 honors, the most ever for the Hawks. SJU also scored two wins over Top 25 teams (Creighton and Temple) and Martelli became SJU's all-time leader in victories.

In 2010-11, Martelli guided the youngest squad in his career, which included three freshman starters. The Hawks made an exciting late-season run, earning a berth in the Atlantic 10 Tournament with a win in the final regular-season game, and won two games in the tourney to reach the semifinals. He reached two milestones with his 300th career victory (March 11) and his 150th conference win (March 5), while also coaching his 500th game and 250th A-10 contest.

Martelli's 2009-10 squad went 11-20 coming off a 2008-09 season that saw the Hawks go 17-15 for his ninth consecutive winning season. Among the highlights of '08-09 was Ahmad Nivins earning AP Honorable Mention All-America honors and becoming the third Hawk in six years to garner the Atlantic 10's Player of the Year Award. Nivins was chosen by the Dallas Mavericks in the 2009 NBA Draft, becoming the third player coached by Martelli to be drafted.

The 2007-08 Hawks reached the Atlantic 10 Championship game for the third time in four years and earned the program's 19th bid to the NCAA Tournament and Martelli's fifth. The 11th-seeded Hawks fell to sixth-seeded Oklahoma in the NCAA First Round, ending the year at 21-13.

He reached a significant milestone in 2006-07 when he surpassed Hall of Famer Jack Ramsay for second place on the school's all-time list for wins, guiding a young squad to 18 victories.

Martelli turned in another top-notch coaching performance in 2005-06. The Hawks went from a 10-12 record in February to win the final five games of the regular season and three straight in the conference tournament to reach the Atlantic 10 championship for the second year in a row, falling just one point short of the title. The Hawks were rewarded with their sixth consecutive postseason bid, but saw the season come to an end in the NIT second round, closing with a 19-14 mark.

His effort was similar to the previous season where he turned in perhaps a more remarkable coaching job than in 2003-04 when he was the consensus National Coach of the Year. Faced with the loss of two NBA first-round draft picks from the '03-04 squad that went 30-2, the 2004-05 Hawks struggled early on, but Martelli reworked the team's style of play to guide SJU to 21 wins in the calendar year of

The Hawks garnered the top seed in the conference tournament for the second year in a row and reached the championship game. He was named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the second straight season and the fourth time in his career. The Hawks earned their fifth consecutive postseason bid and made an exciting six-game run in the NIT, falling on a last-second shot in the championship game. It marked the second time in his career that he guided SJU to the NIT title game.

In 2003-04, Martelli guided a focused and unselfish squad that became the most compelling story in college basketball. The Hawks went undefeated in the regular season, reached the pinnacle as the top-ranked team in the nation and earned the school's first-ever number-one seed in the NCAA Tournament, advancing to the Elite Eight. Jameer Nelson was the consensus National Player of the Year and, along with teammate Delonte West, was a first-round selection in the NBA Draft. The Hawks became the first team since 1990-91 to go through the regular season without a loss (27-0). SJU opened the season ranked 12th in the polls and moved up throughout the season, taking the top spot on March 8, 2004, for the first time ever. SJU finished fifth for its highest final ranking since 1966. It was a school-record fourth straight season, and fifth in Martelli's tenure, that the Hawks were ranked in the AP poll.

PHIL MARTELLI

Phil Martelli set the school record for victories when Saint Joseph's defeated Morgan State on December 28, 2011. It was the 310th win of Martelli's career, breaking the mark of 309 previously held by Bill Ferguson.

Martelli guided SJU to its fourth NCAA appearance in nine seasons, and its first back-to-back berths since 1982. The top-seeded Hawks reached the Elite Eight for the first time since 1981 before falling to Oklahoma State in a heartbreaker, 64-62.

He joined Nelson to sweep the National Coach and Player of the Year awards, marking one of the few times in history that the top player and coach were from the same school. Martelli won the 2004 Naismith Award, the Henry Iba Award (USBWA), the inaugural Adolph Rupp Cup, the Coach of the Year awards from both the Associated Press and CBS/Chevrolet, and the NABC Co-Coach of the Year award. He was the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the third time and a repeat winner of the Harry Litwack Big 5 Coach of the Year award.

During that season, the Hawks also won their second outright Big 5 title under Martelli and their fourth straight Atlantic 10 regular season crown. The squad was the recipient of the prestigious Wanamaker Award, given to the team or athlete which brings the greatest credit to the city of Philadelphia, and was named the Team of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

One of the more colorful coaches in the nation, Martelli's personality, wit and accessibility have always made him a media favorite. His popularity grew to an even higher level in 2004, as the Hawks remained unbeaten and the coach was besieged by media requests from all over the country. Martelli remained as accommodating as ever and the Saint Joseph's story was well-documented by the Philadelphia press and told by countless media outlets nationwide. He continues to be called on for his opinion on issues and was an in-studio guest for the Turner Networks coverage of the 2011 NCAA Tournament.

Martelli's commitment to Saint Joseph's is equaled by the University's commitment to him. It was announced in October 2015 that the coach and SJU had agreed to terms for a multi-year contract extension.

He served as the head coach of the 2005 USA Under-21 World Championship Team, which competed at the FIBA U21 World Championship in Argentina, earning a fifth-place finish. He had previously worked with USA Basketball as an assistant coach for the USA's gold-medal winning teams at both the 2001 FIBA World Championship for Young Men and the 1998 Goodwill Games.

Martelli added the title of "author" to his résumé, in 2007, when he co-wrote a book, "Don't Call Me Coach: A Lesson Plan for Life" with Harold Gullan, Ph.D.

PHIL MARTELLI

He is not only passionate for coaching, but also for his work in the community. He serves as the chair of the Coaches vs. Cancer National Council as well as the co-chair of the Philadelphia chapter of Coaches vs. Cancer, which is one of the top fundraising groups in the country. In 2012, he received the Distinguished Service Award from the American Cancer Society's Southeast Region. Martelli and the Philadelphia coaches were honored at the 2004 NCAA Final Four with the NABC's Coaches vs. Cancer Champion Award and with the Community Service Award from the Philadelphia Sports Congress. In 2012, the Philadelphia coaches were honored with the Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development Award as presented by Neumann University.

The coach has received numerous honors for his community work, highlighted by three honorary degrees. Martelli's alma mater, Widener University, bestowed upon him one of its highest honors on May 15, 2004 with an honorary doctorate in public service for his "altruistic work in the community and his positive influence as a teacher, coach and role model." On May 21, 2006, he addressed the graduates of Cabrini College and received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree in recognition of his "extraordinary career and service to the community." And in 2010, Martelli gave the commencement address at Immaculata University, while receiving a doctorate of humane letters.

He was also named the "Citizen of the Year" by the March of Dimes in 2004, was inducted into the CVO Hall of Fame for the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, and was honored by the National Adoption Center. In 2006, Martelli was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Kennedy-Kenrick High School (formerly Bishop Kenrick), where he coached.

Martelli views himself as an ambassador for the University and takes the role very seriously. He is one of the most sought-after public speakers in Philadelphia, with an appeal that stretches even further outside the area. Making countless appearances year-round, he finds the time for many organizations, no matter how large or small.

Martelli has served as the honorary chairperson for the Centennial celebration of Ken-Crest, the largest community-based service provider for children and adults with disabilities in Southeastern Pennsylvania and Delaware.

After 10 years as an assistant at SJU, Martelli was named the 14th coach in school history on July 20, 1995, and was just the third non-alumnus to follow in the storied tradition of Hawk coaches.

Martelli burst onto the scene in 1995-96 and took SJU to the NIT Championship game as a rookie head coach, becoming just the fifth first-year head coach to take a team to the tournament's Final Four since the field expanded to 32 teams in 1980. Martelli led the '95-96 Hawks, which had lost the school's all-time leading scorer and a 1,000-point, 1,000-rebound performer, to a 19-13 record, tying him for third place with Jim Lynam (1978-79) for victories by a first-year SJU coach.

Expectations for 1996-97 were for a winning campaign. And after a disheartening season-opening rout at Duke (89-60) in the first round of the Preseason NIT, Martelli and his charges regrouped and turned in one of the best seasons in the program's history. The team's accomplishments, most of which have now been surpassed by the '03-04 team, included a then-record-tying 26 wins (seven losses), and a final national ranking of 12th by the Associated Press and 17th by CNN/USA Today. The squad also put together a 10-game winning streak and three wins over Top 25 teams while winning both the Atlantic 10 regular season and tournament titles. The Hawks advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 before suffering a loss to defending national champion Kentucky.

With the team's success came individual accolades for the second-year coach. He garnered Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year honors as well as being named District Coach of the Year by the USBWA, NABC, Eastern Basketball and Basketball Times. Martelli was also named the Eastern College Coach of the Year and was the co-recipient of the Big 5 award.

Martelli's third year at the helm was a true test of his character. The season started with the loss of one of his key players to academics and two recruits to NCAA initial eligibility rules. Despite the depleted lineup, the coach kept the team competitive throughout the season, as the Hawks struggled to find wins while facing one of the most demanding schedules in school history. They totaled 11 wins, but the "never say die" spirit of SJU was evidenced by the team holding leads over five nationally-ranked teams late in the second half.

In 1998-99, the Hawk mentor faced perhaps his toughest challenge as a head coach, guiding a team that started a school-record four newcomers through a tough non-conference slate and the always imposing A-10 battles. Martelli and SJU got off to a strong start, defeating No. 21 Tennessee and winning the Cable Car Classic en route to a 9-7 record at mid-January. Youth finally caught up to the Hawks, however, as the team experienced a nine-game losing streak and finished the season with a 12-18 overall mark.

The 1999-2000 season included many highlights as the coach guided the team to a stunning 62-59 win over then-No. 5 Temple at The Palestra on February 29. It was Martelli's first win over Temple and the program's first win over a Top 5 team since February, 1984 (No. 2 DePaul). The team's 13-16 record was deceiving as the Hawks played a schedule ranked 32nd toughest in the nation.

Picked by most as a middle-of-the-pack Atlantic 10 team in 2000-01, SJU started strong, posting a 7-3 record in its first 10 games, and finished even stronger, going 14-2 in the conference to win the single division A-10 regular season title. Overall, the Hawks again tied the school-record for wins, compiling a 26-7 mark. The team moved into the Top 25 in both major polls in February, and was ranked in the final polls (No. 22 AP; No. 24 ESPN/USA Today).

Despite its ranking, and the presence of one of the nation's finest backcourts in junior Marvin O'Connor and National Freshman of the Year Jameer Nelson, SJU earned an at-large bid but only a number-nine seed. The Hawks responded by downing eighth-seeded Georgia Tech, 66-62, in the first round of the West Regional in San Diego. The team then showed its true mettle, battling top seed Stanford in one of the most exciting games of the NCAA Tournament before falling, 90-83.

As in 1996-97, Martelli picked up much-deserved hardware following the season. He was named Coach of the Year by the Atlantic 10, NABC (District III) and Philadelphia's Basketball Writers (Eastern College Coach of the Year). Nationally, he was a finalist for the national Coach of the Year by ESPN the Magazine and also a finalist for the Naismith College Basketball Coach of the Year award.

PHIL MARTELLI

In the 2001-02 preseason, the Hawks were ranked as high as eighth by Sports Illustrated and 10th by both major polls. SJU stayed in the polls until mid-December when three straight losses (North Carolina, Georgia State and Gonzaga), all coinciding with an injury to All-American guard O'Connor, saw the team fall from the rankings. Saint Joseph's rebounded to post a 19-12 record, share the A-10 East title for Martelli's third regular-season crown, and earn its fourth postseason bid in seven years (NIT).

In 2002-03, after graduating four fifth-year seniors that compiled over 5,000 points and 2,200 rebounds, the Hawks were picked to be in the middle of the A-10 East Division. With arguably the nation's best point guard in the fold in Nelson, Martelli built the team around defense and perimeter play. The plan worked as SJU went on to lead the nation in field goal percentage defense (.372) and ranked seventh in scoring defense (59.5 ppg). The team cracked the national polls in February and ended the season with its third straight A-10 regular season title, second NCAA at-large bid in three seasons and a 23-7 record, despite a late-season injury to Delonte West.

Off the court, Martelli's lighter side has been featured weekly on his HawkTalk television show, which ran for 15 seasons as the most unique coach's show in the nation, with a "Tonight Show" format. Game highlights were included, but were secondary to the jokes and humorous interviews. Named the best coach's show in college basketball by The Sporting News in 2001, HawkTalk gained a much greater audience in its third year (1998-99), with its move to Comcast SportsNet, Philadelphia's regional all-sports station. The show's viewer base grew even more in 2003-04, when national network CBS College Sports aired the show for five years.

A four-time Atlantic 10 (1997, 2000, 2004, 2005) and four-time USBWA District Coach of the Year (1997, 2001, 2003, 2004), Martelli is one of just three Hawk coaches to record 200 career wins, posting his milestone victory against Buffalo on March 19, 2005.

A 1976 graduate of Widener University, Martelli began his career on Hawk Hill with SJU's 1985-86 team, which reached the NCAA Tournament. In his decade as an assistant, he was part of the Hawks' NIT teams in 1992-93 and 1994-95.

Prior to his arrival at SJU, Martelli spent seven years as head basketball coach at Bishop Kenrick High School in Norristown, Pa. At Kenrick, he led his team to six straight Catholic League playoff appearances, a school record, and still owns the school's all-time mark for wins with 108. His best season came in 1982, when he was named Prep Coach of the Year by both the Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News. He earned similar honors in both 1980 and 1982 for Montgomery County from the Norristown Times-Herald.

Martelli began his career as the junior varsity coach at Cardinal O'Hara High in Springfield, Pa., for the 1976-77 season. He moved on the following year to become an assistant at his alma mater, where he helped guide Widener to the NCAA Division III Final Four. After that season, he accepted the head job at Kenrick.

As a player, he was part of Widener's NCAA Tournament teams in both 1974-75 and 1975-76, serving as team co-captain as a senior. A point guard, he also set the school's single season and career assist marks.

Martelli and his wife, Judy, a former basketball player with the national champion Immaculata College teams in the 1970s, have three children - Phil, Jr., Jimmy, and Elizabeth. Phil, Jr., and Elizabeth are both Saint Joseph's graduates. Phil and Judy have six grandchildren - Philip Stephen, Marra, Avery, Brynley, Madalyn and Nolan.

Phil Martelli and Jameer Nelson collected all of the national Coach of the Year and Player of the Year Awards in 2004. The climax of the whirlwind awards tour was Nelson capturing the John R. Wooden Award and having the opportunity to meet coaching legend John Wooden at the awards ceremony in Los Angeles.

MARK BASS

Assistant Coach

18th Season

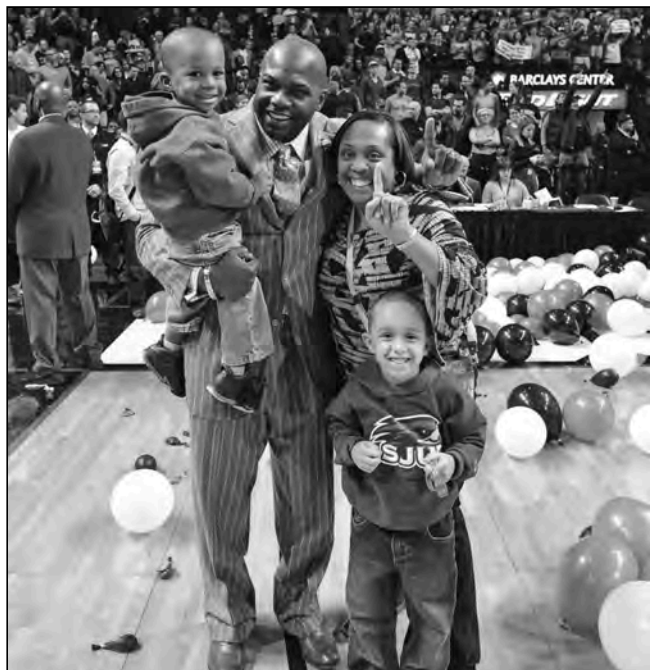

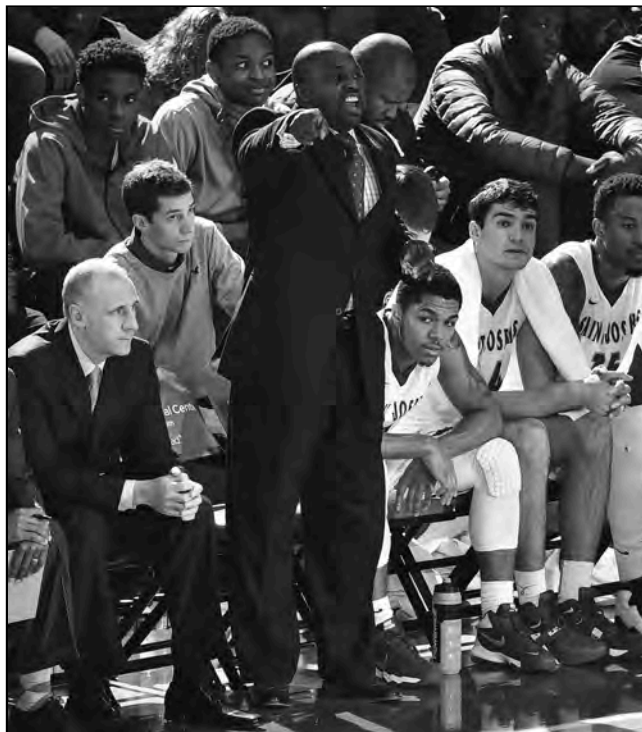

Mark Bass, one of the most prolific shooters in Saint Joseph's history, is the veteran among the Hawks' assistant coaches. He is now entering his 18th season at his alma mater and is the longest tenured assistant coach in SJU men's basketball history.

Bass joined the Hawks' staff in 1999-2000 and during his tenure, has been involved with teams that have made six consecutive post-season appearances, won five Atlantic 10 regular-season titles and captured the 2014 and 2016 A-10 titles. Nine years after he led the Hawks to the NIT Final as a player in 1996, Bass again helped SJU reach New York City and the NIT Final as a coach in 2005.

In 2005, Bass was honored with the William J. Bennett Memorial Award, recognizing dedication and loyalty to the Saint Joseph's men's basketball program. He was a co-recipient of the award with then-fellow staff member Monté Ross.

A fiery leader on the court, and two-year team captain, Bass led the Hawks to the NIT Finals in his senior season, 1995-96, and ranked second on the team with his average of 14.3 points per game. He connected for school records of 91 3-pointers and 268 attempts, season marks which were later eclipsed by Pat Carroll in 2005. A Second Team All-Big 5 selection in 1996, Bass made 225 three-pointers during his career from 1992-96, a total that now ranks sixth on the Hawks' all-time list. As a freshman, the guard led the Atlantic 10 Conference in free throw percentage with a school-record 86.9 percent, a mark which was broken by Langston Galloway in 2011-12 (88.7). Bass also led the A-10 in three-point percentage as a junior (.423), making him just the second Saint Joseph's player to lead the league in two different categories.

In 2001, Bass became the first member of the 1996 NIT Finalist team to be inducted into the Saint Joseph's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Upon graduation he played one season of professional basketball with the Tianjin Breakers in the Chinese Professional League in 1996-97. Following that, he served two seasons (1997-99) as an assistant coach under Max Good at Maine Central Institute, helping guide the team to back-to-back New England Prep School Championships, including a perfect 35-0 season in 1997-98.

A 1991 graduate of McCorristin High School in New Jersey and native of Trenton, Bass was named the Mercer County Player of the Year as a senior and set the all-time scoring record with 1,482 points in his career. He played for one year at Maine Central Institute, helping the squad to a 27-1 record with the lone loss coming in the New England Prep School Championship game. He was inducted into the Mercer County CYO Hall of Fame in November, 2004.

Bass resides with his wife, Tracie, and their two young sons, James Noel and Jordan Richard, in Lawnside, N.J.

DAVID DUDA

Assistant Coach
11th Season

David Duda is in his 11th season at Saint Joseph's having added head coaching experience to the staff.

At SJU, Duda has been instrumental in the development of the Hawks' past players, such as A-10 All-Conference selection Ronald Roberts, Jr., and 2009 Atlantic 10 Player of the Year Ahmad Nivins. He has also been part of the Hawks' teams which have captured two Atlantic 10 titles in the past three seasons.

Duda came to SJU in 2006 after eight years as head coach at Widener University, where he compiled a 143-68 record, with two Middle Atlantic Conference Commonwealth championships and three trips to the NCAA Division III Tournament. He also served as Widener's athletic director from 2003 to 2006, overseeing the operation of the University's athletics program with 20 varsity teams.

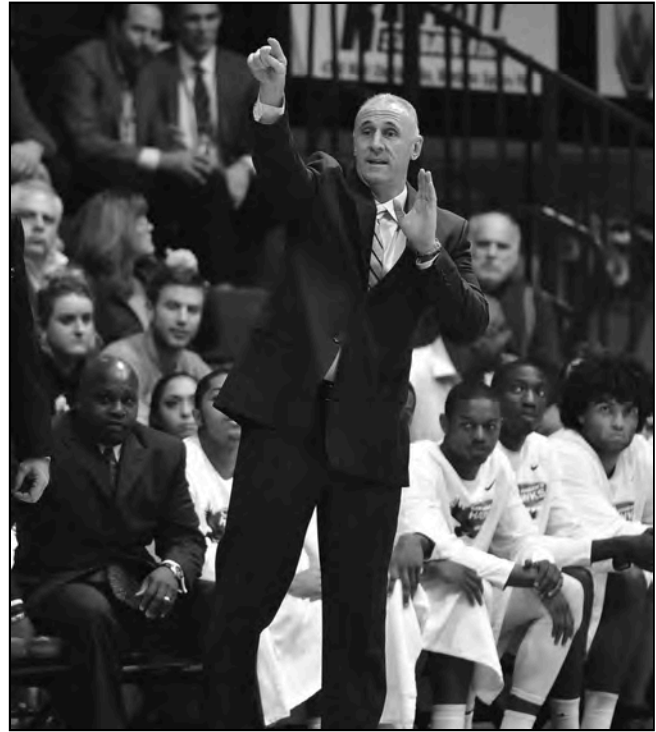

Widener enjoyed its greatest success under his leadership in 2005-06, when the team finished 23-6, won the Commonwealth Conference regular-season title and made the school's first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance since 1987. Duda earned Coach of the Year honors for both the Commonwealth Conference and the NABC Mid-Atlantic Region.

Duda led the Pioneers to a record-breaking 24-4 season in 1999-2000 and was recognized as MAC Coach of the Year.

A 1988 graduate of Spring Garden College, where he was a two-time honorable mention All-American, Duda began his coaching career as the top assistant to Herb Magee at Philadelphia University.

During those seven seasons the Rams had their most successful period in school history, and Philadelphia University was the winningest Division II school in the country during that span with a 171-35 record.

He moved on to be the head coach at Delaware Valley College in 1997 for two seasons. Duda turned around a team which had been 0-23, leading it to a 12-12 mark for the first non-losing season in 11 years. He earned the Freedom Conference Coach of the Year award in 1998. His career coaching record in 10 seasons is 159-99.

Duda's connection with the Hawks' head coach dates back to 1981 when he played for Martelli on the varsity team at Bishop Kenrick High School (1981-84).

Duda lives in Collegeville, Pa., with his wife, Barbara, and children, Danielle and David.

GEOFF ARNOLD

Assistant Coach
9th Season

Geoff Arnold, a former Hawk standout, enters his ninth year on Phil Martelli's staff after rejoining his alma mater in the 2008-09 season.

The 1986 graduate of Saint Joseph's is now in his second tenure as a full-time assistant coach, but was a volunteer assistant coach on Jim Boyle's staff in 1988-89, giving him a total of 10 years on the Hawks' bench.

Arnold has been part of three of the Hawks' four Atlantic 10 Championships, as a player in 1986 and as an assistant coach in 2014 and 2016.

Prior to making his return to Saint Joseph's, Arnold was the associate head coach at Drexel University for seven years. While there, he was instrumental in the Dragons' recruiting efforts that helped them reach the postseason four times in seven seasons, including a 23-9 record in 2006-07.

The 1986 SJU graduate previously served as an assistant coach with the Hawks from 1993 to 1996. That stint included one year with Martelli, who was in his first season (1995-96) as head coach, where the Hawks went 26-6 and reached the NIT Championship game.

Arnold left Saint Joseph's in 1997 to join former Hawk teammate Bruiser Flint at the University of Massachusetts, serving on Flint's staff for five years. He then returned to Philadelphia in 2001 when Flint was named head coach at Drexel.

Arnold, a senior tri-captain for the 1985-86 Saint Joseph's team that won the Atlantic 10 Championship, recorded 26 wins and earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament. During his senior season, which was Martelli's first as an assistant coach at SJU, the guard averaged 8.9 points and led the team with 134 assists. He was inducted into the Saint Joseph's Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992.

Upon graduation from Saint Joseph's, Arnold played for the Wildwood Aces of the United States Basketball League and then served as an assistant coach for one season. After one year out of basketball, he became a full-time assistant with the Hawks in 1992-93, working on John Griffin's staff for three seasons.

Originally from Sharon Hill, Pa. and Darby Township High School, Arnold is the uncle of former Hawk star Langston Galloway, who is with the NBA's New Orleans Pelicans.

Arnold and his wife, Dr. Stephanie Tryce, who is a marketing professor at Saint Joseph's, reside in Philadelphia with their daughter, Gabrielle, who is a sophomore at SJU.

THE HAWK

One of the most famous mascots in college sports, the Saint Joseph's Hawk is in its 61st year in 2016-17.

The Hawk is best known for staying in constant motion by flapping its wings throughout every basketball game and representing the Saint Joseph's motto, "The Hawk Will Never Die."

Jim Brennan originated the idea for a hawk as mascot during the 1954-55 season. Brennan, an ex-Marine and SJU cheerleader, at first wanted to secure an actual hawk, but later switched to the costume idea. The student government raised the 120 dollars needed to buy the initial costume, which Brennan donned for three years. He made his debut as the Hawk on January 4, 1956, a 69-56 win over La Salle at the Palestra. Since then, and including this season, a total of 31 SJU students have donned the costume. The Hawk has not missed a men's basketball game since that first season in 1955-56.

There have been two women to serve as the mascot - Sara Brennan, in 2000-01 and Brienne Ryan in 2009-10.

In addition to the constant flapping, the Hawk is also recognized by its "flying" in figure eights around the court during timeouts. Years ago, ESPN used a "flap-o-meter" on the national telecast of a Saint Joseph's game to estimate that the Hawk flaps its wings 3,500 times during a regulation game.

The Hawk is unique because it is one of the few mascots in the nation that travels to every game, and the student who holds the position gains a tuition scholarship. The student, who is selected through an interview process during the previous spring semester, also serves as a team manager for the men's basketball team and travels with the squad.

The most decorated mascot in the country, The Hawk has garnered numerous accolades in its 60-year history. In 2013-14, NCAA.com named The Hawk as "College Basketball's Best Tradition". The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Sports Illustrated for Kids, Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook and ESPN College Basketball magazine have selected it as the nation's top mascot. Eastern Basketball tabbed The Hawk as the Atlantic 10 Conference's best mascot, while The Hawk won a "Best of Philly" award from Philadelphia Magazine in 2003-04. The Hawk was selected as a 2008 nominee for the Mascot Hall of Fame.

Saint Joseph's athletic teams have been recognized with the nickname "Hawks" since 1929. At that time, the school's yearbook editor, Charlie Dunn, initiated a contest among the student body for a symbol. More than 100 submissions were narrowed to two, with "Hawks" winning out over "Grenadiers" (World War I soldiers who specialized in tossing grenades) by a slim margin in the final vote.

John Gallagher '31, a catcher on the Saint Joseph's baseball team, submitted the winning suggestion. He won a sweater with a special Saint Joseph's monogram for selecting the winning name. According to the Student Annual, the nickname was appropriate because it typified "the fighting spirit of our crimson and gray athletes and it is suggestive of the aerial attack which has made our football team famous." Ironically, football was discontinued at Saint Joseph's following the 1939 season.

But it has been the connection with the storied tradition of the Saint Joseph's men's and women's basketball programs that has given The Hawk mascot its prominence on the national level, making it one of the most recognized mascots in college athletics.

Timmy Parks
THE HAWK

Timmy Parks will serve as the Saint Joseph's University Hawk mascot for the second consecutive season. He is the 37th student to represent the University as the men's basketball mascot in one of college basketball's most famous traditions.

Parks is a senior at Saint Joseph's and is in his third year working as a student manager with the men's basketball program. For the past three years, he has also worked in the SJU Athletic Communications Office.

An accounting major with minors in business intelligence and sports marketing, Parks hails from Wilmington, Del., and is a graduate of the Salesianum School.

He has been active on campus, working in the Learning Resource Center and in the Office of Student Leadership and Activities. Parks has volunteered with Saint Joseph's Campus Ministry and participated in the Appalachian Experience and is also a member of the club baseball team.

SJU BY THE NUMBERS

1 The national ranking Saint Joseph's earned in both the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today polls of March 8, 2004. It marked the first time ever that the Hawks were the nation's top-ranked team during the regular season. The other number-one spot in SJU history came when Sports Illustrated gave the Hawks the top preseason ranking prior to the 1965-66 season.

2 Atlantic 10 titles won by a select group of Hawk players in 2014 and 2016 - Javon Baumann, DeAndre' Bembry, Brendan Casper, Isaiah Miles, Kyle Molock, and Papa Ndao.

3 Number of players in school history who were team captains as sophomores. Lamarr Kimble became the most recent this season and the second in three years as DeAndre' Bembry was voted team co-captain in 2014-15. The previous sophomore captain was Joe Oakes with the famed "Mighty Mites" team in 1936-37.

4 Number of Atlantic 10 Championships won by the Hawks in 1986, 1997, 2014 and 2016. Phil Martelli has been a part of all four - as SJU's head coach for the last three and served as an assistant coach with the 1986 team.

5 Consecutive Atlantic 10 regular-season titles won by the Hawks (from 1999-00 to 2004-05) to share the conference record with the Massachusetts' teams of the mid-1990's.

Jack Ramsay (here with Joe Spratt) led his Hawk teams to 10 postseason appearances in 11 years, with a Final Four berth in 1961.

6 Number of players referred to as the "Mighty Mites," which helped put Saint Joseph's on the national basketball map in the 1930's. The "Mites" - Jim Smale, Matt Guokas, Sr., John Kenney, John McMenamin, Dan Kenney and Joe Oakes - compiled a 54-17 overall mark from 1934-38.

7 Number of Saint Joseph's alumni that have been head coaches in the NBA. Only Indiana has had more graduates (11) coach in the league.

HAGAN ARENA

A new era of Saint Joseph's basketball began on October 17, 2009, with the dedication of the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena.

The opening of the arena was the culmination of the two-year expansion and renovation of Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse, which was the home of the Hawks since 1949. Hagan Arena added approximately 1,000 seats to stretch the capacity to 4,200, while providing numerous other amenities that were not available in the Fieldhouse.

The Hawks played the first game in the arena against city rival Drexel, on November 13, 2009. A standing-room-only crowd saw an exciting 77-67 overtime win for Saint Joseph's.

During the 2011-12 season, the Hawks recorded a few firsts for the arena. SJU posted its first win over a ranked opponent in the building when it upset 19th-ranked Creighton on December 10. Saint Joseph's also hosted rival Villanova on campus for the first time ever and a standing-room-only crowd cheered the Hawks on to a 74-58 victory. The Hawks also hosted A-10 rival Temple on campus for the first time since 2001 and scored an 82-72 win over the #22 Owls to earn a share of the Big 5 title.

The Hawks are 66-32 in seven seasons at Hagan Arena, but own an all-time record of 385-114 on campus, at both Hagan and Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse combined.

THE PALESTRA

Saint Joseph's has utilized The Palestra as an alternate home venue ever since the beginning of competition of the Philadelphia Big 5 in 1955, playing a number of games there every year. The 2016-17 season marks the 62nd Saint Joseph's will play at The Palestra, which remains an integral part of SJU basketball history.

Saint Joseph's "home away from home," the historic Palestra was the Hawks' full-time homecourt for the 2008-09 season as Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse was closed due to the expansion and renovation project. SJU played 13 home games at The Palestra on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania that season, with the only exception being the season opener against Rider, which was played at the Wachovia Center.

Once the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena was completed in 2009-10, the Hawks continued playing a few key city games at The Palestra. Having won 67 percent of its Palestra games over the years, Saint Joseph's will have one game there this year, against host school Penn.

First opened during the 1926-27 season, the building is one of the premier basketball meccas in the world. The 8,722-seat arena has been the home for more than 70 years of Penn basketball and 50 years of Big 5 doubleheaders. It has hosted a multitude of events, including 50 NCAA Tournament games as part of 19 national championship competitions, as well as numerous NIT contests, a season of women's professional games (American Basketball League), and even NBA games in the early history of the league.

The Palestra was cited as "Host to the first NCAA basketball championship game in 1939, and countless classic Philadelphia Big 5 matchups." It is the subject of a 2007 documentary film, The Palestra: Cathedral of Basketball.

It was mentioned at the top of the list of "Must Visit Sports Shrines" in Sports Illustrated's (SI.com) "100 Things You Have to Do Before You Graduate." It was also ranked 34th in ESPN.com's list of the "America's 100 Most Important Sports Venues."

During the summer of 2008 a new floor was installed, replacing one which had existed since the 1980s. The Palestra's lower seating bowl was reconfigured in the summer of 2013, and with that renovation, press row was moved from its longtime home behind the benches and scorer's table to floor level opposite the benches.

The Palestra has been Saint Joseph's "home away from home" since 1955 with the Hawks playing numerous classic Big 5 games there.

The "Mighty Mites," so dubbed because of their noticeable lack of size, are among the many Hawk basketball legends. The group (clockwise from left) - Jim Smale, Matt Guokas, Sr., John Kenney, Joe Oakes, Dan Kenney and John McMenamin - led SJU to a combined 54-17 mark over a four-year period (1934-38). They made up for their lack of height with quick passing, smothering defense and an assortment of gadget plays. They were inducted into the Saint Joseph's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000 as a group, along with their coach Bill Ferguson.

HAWKS IN THE NBA – COACHES

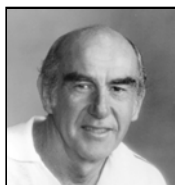

Coaching Dynasty

The Saint Joseph's coaching connection is an impressive one. Seven Saint Joseph's University graduates have gone on to head coaching positions in the NBA. Jim O'Brien (SJU '74) who coached the Indiana Pacers until 2011, is the most recent one. SJU is tied with Illinois for second on the list of universities with alumni that have served as head coaches in the NBA. Indiana University leads with 11 graduates that have coached in the league.

First-Round Picks in Bold

Info from BasketballReference.com

Jameer Nelson was chosen by Denver as the 20th overall pick in the 2004 Draft, but his rights were traded to Orlando that evening. An NBA All-Star in 2009, Nelson spent 10 years with the Magic and is currently with the Denver Nuggets.

Delonte West's selection by the Boston Celtics in 2004 gave the Hawks two first-round picks in the same year, marking a first for the SJU program. He went on to play for Seattle, Cleveland and Dallas and also played overseas in China.

DeAndre' Bembry was selected 21st overall by Atlanta in the 2016 NBA Draft. He became the 33rd player in SJU history to be drafted, and the sixth to be chosen in the first round.

PHILADELPHIA BIG 5

The Philadelphia Big 5 ... A Philly Tradition

The Philadelphia Big 5 celebrates its 60th anniversary in 2015-16, as undoubtedly one of the most unique basketball leagues in the nation.

On November 23, 1954 the administrations at the five major universities in the Philadelphia area agreed to formulate a partnership between their athletic departments. They agreed to participate in a men's basketball round robin, the "City Series", at The Palestra on the University of Pennsylvania's campus. The Big 5 was born. For over 50 years, this partnership has remained intact and defines Philadelphia's collegiate sports tradition, with heated rivalries and fierce competition on the court, partnership and camaraderie off the court. The Philadelphia Big 5 was named the city's "Best Sports Tradition" by the Philadelphia Daily News.

In a city that is passionate about its sports teams, The Philadelphia Big 5 is the embodiment of collegiate sports...it's the 8,722 fans that repeatedly fill the most storied basketball building in the country, the Palestra...it's about earning bragging rights when your school wins the City Series...it's some of the most personable and successful coaches in the business...it's students showing up an hour before the game waiting to erupt when their team takes the floor...it's the look on a freshman's face when he gets thrown into his first City Series game...it's student-athletes collecting canned goods for the poor, mentoring our city's youth, and holding clinics for young players...it's reaching countless fans and alums with something good, something wholesome, something historic..

No other city in the United States is represented by five major Division I Universities.

Dr. Mark C. Reed PRESIDENT

Dr. Mark C. Reed became the 28th president of Saint Joseph's University on July 1, 2015. The first lay president in the institution's history, Dr. Reed's involvement in Jesuit education extends over twenty-five years.

An accomplished educator and administrator, Dr. Reed came to Saint Joseph's University from Fairfield University in Fairfield, CT, where he served in multiple roles over a fifteen-year tenure, including Senior Vice President for Administration and Chief of Staff and Vice President for Student Affairs. As principal advisor to the President and a senior member of the president's leadership team, Dr. Reed was involved in all aspects of academic and student life, as well as administration, enrollment management, finance, marketing, strategic planning, operations and external affairs. Additionally, he was responsible for developing and executing major components of Fairfield's strategic plans – including enhancements to the overall student experience and major campus development projects – and for securing principal and leadership gifts to support strategic priorities. Dr. Reed was also an adjunct professor in the Mathematics Department. In 2015, he was recognized and honored with Fairfield's Distinguished Faculty/Administrator Award.

As president of Saint Joseph's, Dr. Reed is committed to sustaining academic excellence at SJU and invigorating a transformative educational experience that prepares students to be rigorous and reflective, compassionate toward others, and achieve life-long personal and professional success. Central to his leadership is a deep commitment to the University's Jesuit tradition and responsibility to steward this mission. Dr. Reed is a Lecturer in the Mathematics Department and is teaching an undergraduate calculus course.

Prior to his work in higher education, Dr. Reed was a high school teacher and administrator at St. Joseph's Prep in Philadelphia, PA, and Xaverian Brothers High School in Westwood, MA. A member of Phi Beta Kappa and Alpha Sigma Nu (national Jesuit honor society), Dr. Reed earned a bachelor's degree in Mathematics from Fairfield University, a master's degree in educational administration from Boston College, a MBA from Fairfield, and an Ed.D. in higher education management from the University of Pennsylvania.

ADMINISTRATION

Don DiJulia VICE PRESIDENT FOR ATHLETICS DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

One of the long standing administrators in college athletics, Saint Joseph's director of athletics Don DiJulia is now in his sixth decade on Hawk Hill. From his beginnings as a student-athlete to his lengthy career as an administrator, he has truly exemplified the Jesuit ideal of being a "man for others".

DiJulia is in his second stint as the University's top athletic administrator after returning to SJU as associate vice president/athletic director in June of 1988. In 2012, DiJulia was promoted to vice president for athletics/director of athletics, and all told, has spent 33 of the last 40 years on Hawk Hill.

For the past 28 years, DiJulia has overseen tremendous growth in the University's athletics programs. During his tenure, five varsity programs have been added, a new weight training facility built, athletic fund drives initiated, and athletic facilities have been updated and created. But at the center of his efforts is the enhancement of the student-athlete experience in a variety of programming efforts built around "Developing Everyday Champions."

Saint Joseph's underwent the biggest project in DiJulia's tenure with the expansion and renovation of Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse, which reopened for the 2009-10 season as the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena. The Jack Ramsay Basketball Center was dedicated in the summer of 2009 and includes state-of-the-art facilities for the men's and women's basketball programs as well as athletic communications.

This comprehensive plan to enhance varsity and recreational sports at SJU was completed in 2011-12 as the transition to the James J. Maguire '58 Campus resulted in the creation of varsity fields for baseball, field hockey and softball, six tennis courts, and additional recreation and intramural facilities.

DiJulia was honored at the 2009 NACDA Convention with the Gary Cunningham Lifetime Achievement Award presented by the Division I-AAA Athletics Directors Association (DI-AAA ADA), which is the highest award given by the organization. In 2005, he was chosen as the Northeast Regional Division I-AAA Athletic Director of the Year.

He has emphasized the importance of the student-athlete with the institution of the SJU Athletic Director's Honor Roll as well as senior Scholar-Athlete awards during his tenure.

DiJulia has spearheaded Saint Joseph's hosting of numerous conference and national championships including the 2009 NCAA Men's Basketball First and Second Rounds; the 2000 NCAA Women's Basketball Final Four; and the NCAA Women's Lacrosse Division I and III Championships in 2015 and 2016 at PPL Park in Chester, Pa.

DiJulia was part of the most compelling story in college basketball in 2003-04 as Saint Joseph's gained the attention of a nation with its successful quest for the perfect regular season and run to the NCAA Elite Eight. With DiJulia leading the way, Saint Joseph's handled the unprecedented demands on the program from its many constituents, including alumni, fans, and media.

A 1967 graduate of Saint Joseph's, DiJulia has worn many hats in college athletics during his more than 45 years of professional experience. His career began in coaching, with a one-year stint as assistant baseball coach at SJU in 1968. He then went on to assistant coaching positions in basketball at Fairfield University, George Washington University and American University.

During his first tenure as director of athletics at Saint Joseph's from 1976 to 1981, DiJulia was instrumental in the planning and construction of the $5 million athletic and recreation complex. He also oversaw the growth of women's athletics as softball and cross country were added as varsity sports.

DiJulia left Saint Joseph's in 1981 to become commissioner of the East Coast Conference, a position he held for two years until leaving to become commissioner of the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference from 1984 to 1988.

He is extremely involved in the intercollegiate athletic community, and currently serves on Atlantic 10 Administrative Committee, as well as the conference's Finance Committee and Branding Committee. DiJulia also serves on the Dad Vail Regatta Board, The Institute for Sport/Spirituality and Character Board, and the Philadelphia Sports Congress Executive Board.

A two-sport athlete as an undergraduate in baseball and basketball, DiJulia was a member of the 1964-65 Hawk basketball team which compiled a 26-1 regular season record and a top 10 national ranking under head coach Dr. Jack Ramsay.

In 2005, DiJulia was inducted into the Hall of Fame for his alma mater, St. James High School, and in 2007, he was inducted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame Delaware County Chapter.

He and his wife, Pat, reside in Havertown, Pa., and have seven children and 14 grandchildren.

ON THE AIR

The Saint Joseph's Sports Network (SJSN) marks its 27th year of operation in 2016-17. Since its beginnings in 1990, SJSN's coverage of Hawk athletics has grown and included Phil Martelli's HawkTalk radio program and the nationally-renowned HawkTalk television show, which ran for 15 years.

Saint Joseph's will continue to have a comprehensive package on commercial radio in Philadelphia. Every game will be covered this season by either 610 Sports or WTMR AM 800. Hawk fans everywhere will also be able to hear the broadcast of every game through audio streaming at the Hawks' official athletics site, www.SJUHawks.com, which is provided free of charge. Fans can also take those broadcasts on-the-go, with the SJUHawks app for mobile devices.

Matt Martucci
PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Matt Martucci is in his eighth season as the Hawks' radio play-by-play announcer. He has been with the Saint Joseph's Sports Network since 2006 and has called over 200 men's basketball games alongside broadcast partner Joe Lunardi including the Hawks' last two Atlantic 10 and NCAA Tournament runs.

Martucci has worked as the producer for both Phil Martelli's HawkTalk television and radio shows and currently serves as on-air talent for audio and video features on Hawks' All-Access. He joined Sportsradio 94 WIP in May 2016 as an update anchor and talk show host after spending five years at competing station 97.5 The Fanatic. In April 2013 he began co-hosting "Gallen and Martucci" on 97.5 with CBS3's Pat Gallen, with the duo holding a consistent time slot for almost two years.

A 2006 graduate of Syracuse University's Newhouse School of Public Communications, Martucci was hired by Florida-based network beIN Sports as their lead play-by-play announcer for Conference USA football on the network's first-ever broadcast of college sports. He has also called ACC soccer and Conference USA basketball for Fox Sports Regional TV as well as Patriot League football and basketball for Campus Insiders. Martucci also continues to serve as a national update anchor for SiriusXM satellite radio, a position that he has held since January 2013.

Martucci also made his debut with Westwood One Radio in February 2014 as an update anchor during its coverage of the Sochi Olympic Winter Games and served in the same role this past summer on the network's Rio coverage.

Martucci, who received the William J. Bennett Award for dedication and loyalty to the SJU men's basketball program in 2011, began his broadcasting career with WAER FM 88 at Syracuse University, and has also worked with 97.3 ESPN FM in Atlantic City.

A native of Brodheadsville, Pa., he completed his master's degree in business administration from Saint Joseph's in December 2010 and resides in West Deptford, N.J., with his wife, Stephanie.

Joe Lunardi
COLOR ANALYST

Joe Lunardi enters his 27th season on the Saint Joseph's Sports Network (SJSN) as color analyst and has served as co-host of Phil Martelli's "HawkTalk," both on radio and television. He covered his 1,000th SJU game last year.

In June 2015, Lunardi was promoted to vice president for marketing and communications at Saint Joseph's after three years as associate vice president. In this position he oversees institutional marketing and branding, image and program advertising, web development and content, and a wide range of multi-divisional communications initiatives. He is also the University's chief spokesperson and played a key role in launching the award-winning "Magis" campaign four years ago.

A 1982 graduate of Saint Joseph's, Lunardi returned to his alma mater in 1987 as director of media relations. He has also served as director of external relations, director of university communications and assistant vice president for university communications.

Away from the University, Lunardi is the nationally-known "Bracketologist" for ESPN, ESPN Radio, and ESPN.com. His ESPN.com bracketology site generates over 10 million hits per season. He does numerous public speaking engagements each year on behalf of Saint Joseph's University, the Atlantic 10 and college basketball.

In 1995 and 2004, Lunardi received the William J. Bennett Award for dedication and loyalty to the SJU men's basketball program. Lunardi and his wife, Pam, a 1984 SJU graduate, reside in Drexel Hill, Pa., and have two daughters, Emily and Elizabeth.

Jesuit Basketball Spotlight

The Jesuit Basketball Spotlight project, which is in its fifth year, highlights games between men's and women's teams from the 28 Jesuit colleges and universities across the United States. Each of the 28 is dedicated to strong academics and teaching women and men to serve others and live a faith that does justice.

Jesuit schools on Saint Joseph's schedule this season are Loyola Chicago, Fordham and Saint Louis.

The Spotlight project includes awareness announcements during these designated games and during gamecasts on radio and television, and other awareness opportunities. Jesuit, Catholic colleges and universities in the United States have more than 200,000 students currently enrolled and more than 1.7 million living alumni. The Jesuit educational mission began in Europe approximately 500 years ago.

Priority is given to daily newspapers, radio/TV stations and other media who cover Saint Joseph's and its opponents on a regular basis. Internet sites and agencies that will be considered for credentials include those of national cable networks or established publications. Internet sites representing local or regional media outlets will be provided credentials on a space-available basis. Websites that sponsor "message boards" or "chat rooms" where people are able to post anonymous information are ineligible for consideration of credentials. Credentials will only be issued to those 18 years of age and older.

Credentials for NBA scouts must be requested in advance of the game by contacting Marie Wozniak.

RADIO POLICY

Radio stations designated as the primary visiting outlet can have access to phone lines at a cost of $100 per line per game. ($200 for ISDN), unless a reciprocal usage agreement exists. INTERVIEWS

All requests for interviews with Phil Martelli and the Saint Joseph's players must be arranged through Marie Wozniak. Advance notice of at least 24 hours is preferred, but every attempt will be made to accommodate all requests. Players will not be available for interviews on game day, except for post-game interviews.

The Atlantic 10 conducts a teleconference with each of its head men's basketball coaches every Monday beginning in January. Media members should contact the A-10 for the schedule of coaches and the call-in number.

PRESS ROW

Only accredited members of the media and accredited scouts will be issued credentials to cover Saint Joseph's basketball, and only those with passes will be permitted to sit in press seating. Members of the media are reminded that press row is a working area and cheering for either team will not be tolerated.
