MICHAEL J. HAGAN '85 ARENA

The Hawks' sparkling new facility opened in 2009-10 as Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse was expanded and renovated to become the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena. Hagan Arena has many more amenities while providing the basketball program with a top-notch facility, which still preserves the homecourt advantage enjoyed for so many years at Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse.

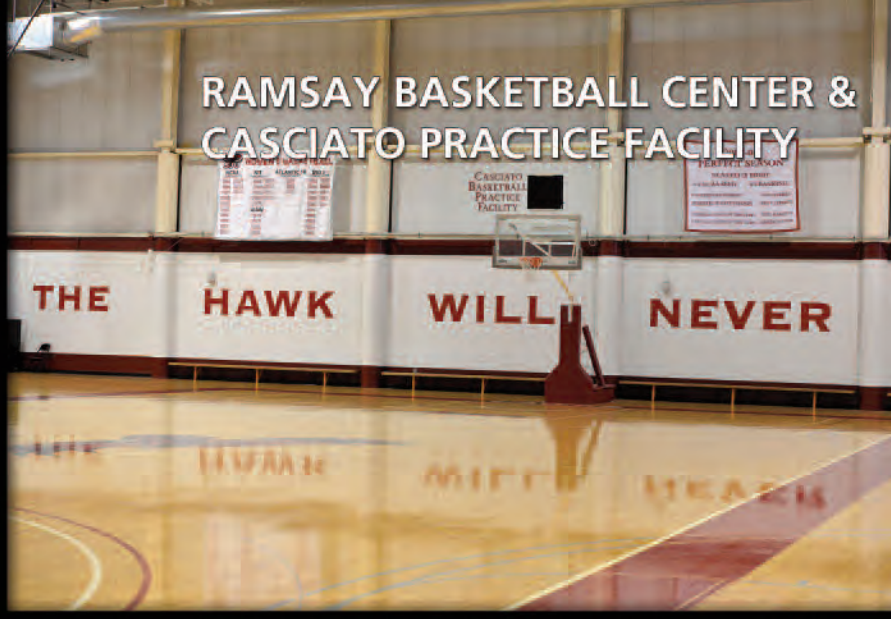

Among the recent improvements to Hagan Arena is an LED centerhung video display system, featuring four individual displays, to provide live video and replays that enhance the SJU fan experience.

Michael J. Hagan '85, and his wife, Joyce, are the lead benefactors for the most comprehensive enhancement of athletic facilities in Saint Joseph's history. A 1985 graduate of SJU, he received his bachelor's degree in accounting and was a member of the Hawks' golf team. The former chairman and chief executive officer of NutriSystem, Inc., Hagan was named the 2006 Entrepreneur of the Year by Forbes magazine. The Hagans reside in Newtown, Pa., with their children, Michael, Colin and Emma.

The Ramsay Basketball Center provides state-of-the-art facilities for the Saint Joseph's men's and women's basketball programs, as well as the Athletic Communications Office. The locker rooms, players' lounges, study spaces and video capabilities have been a dramatic upgrade over the former Fieldhouse.

The Casciato Basketball Practice Facility provides the Hawks with a second full-court hardwood with six baskets. The facility is named for Carmen Casciato '43, a former Saint Joseph's basketball manager.

The Delonte West Lounge and Faralli Multimedia Room provide comfortable spaces and top-of-the-line audio and video for the Hawks.

The men's basketball lockerroom was made possible by Hawk great and NBA All-Star Jameer Nelson.

PHIL MARTELLI

Head Coach - 24th Season

• 2004 Consensus National Coach of the Year •
• Four-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year •
• Past President, NABC Board of Directors •

With the 2018-19 season marking his 24th as the head basketball coach at Saint Joseph's, Phil Martelli has built a program that is consistently one of the top in the conference, a perennial postseason participant and a key player on the national scene. In doing so, he has earned his place among the top coaches in the school's storied history and is one of the more respected coaches in the game.

Martelli is the Hawks' all-time leader in career victories with a mark of 430-309. Setting the school record for wins in a season (30) in 2004, Martelli has guided SJU to 20 or more victories nine times in his 23 seasons, which is the most for any Hawks' coach. His record of 212-164 in Atlantic 10 play is the most conference wins for any active coach and ranks second all-time in the league.

Seven of his players have reached the NBA, including first round draft picks DeAndre' Bembry (2016), Jameer Nelson (2004) and Delonte West (2004) and a second-round selection, Ahmad Nivins (2009). Dwayne Jones and Ronald Roberts, Jr. had NBA stints while undrafted free agent Langston Galloway earned All-Rookie Second Team honors with the New York Knicks in 2015. Galloway (Detroit) and Bembry (Atlanta) are currently playing in the NBA, while Nelson just completed his 14th season in the league.

Martelli has been at his best when it counts the most as his 18 postseason wins (7 NCAA, 11 NIT) are the most in school history. He has taken SJU to the postseason in four of the last six years, and 13 times in his 22 seasons at SJU, while winning three Atlantic 10 Championships (1997, 2014, 2016).

He has also served the game of basketball as a Past President of the NABC's Board of Directors, as a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Ethics Coalition and with his current appointment to the NCAA Division I Basketball Oversight Committee. In 2016, he was honored with the Gene Bartow Award by CollegeInsider.com for outstanding achievement and contributions to the game.

A promising 2017-18 campaign was sidetracked by season-long injuries to two of SJU's top players (Charlie Brown, Jr., Lamarr Kimble). But Martelli's Hawks showed their resiliency, and despite suffering 11 losses with a margin of four or less points, SJU won seven of its last eight games to earn the fourth seed in the Atlantic 10 Championship, reach the conference semifinals and end the year at 16-16.

The Martelli File

Career Record: 430-309 (23 years)

It was the second consecutive year that the injury bug hit Saint Joseph's as the 2016-17 Hawks were plagued by four season-ending injuries, including those to the Hawks' top two scorers, Shavar Newkirk and Lamarr Kimble. Saint Joseph's 2015-16 team compiled a 28-8 record for the second-most victories for a Hawk team, won its second A-10 title in three seasons and advanced to the NCAA Second Round for the first time since 2004. Martelli, who recorded his 400th career win, earned Big 5 Coach of the Year honors as the Hawks were the third most improved team in the nation. He also had two of the best players in the league, as DeAndre' Bembry was the A-10 Player of the Year and Isaiah Miles was the Most Improved Player, with both earning All-A-10 honors.

The 2014-15 Hawks were challenged after losing three All-Conference players from the 2014 A-10 champion team, but saw the emergence of Bembry as one of the league's top players.

In 2013-14, Martelli and his veteran team turned in one of the more memorable seasons in school history, adding another A-10 Championship to his résumé. The Hawks, led by seniors Langston Galloway, Halil Kanacevic and Ronald Roberts, Jr., won 20 of 26 games from mid-December and captured the school's third conference title and its first since 1997. SJU went 24-10 and reached the NCAA Tournament for the sixth time under Martelli, falling to eventual national champion Connecticut in overtime.

The 2012-13 season saw an experienced Saint Joseph's squad reach the Atlantic 10 Quarterfinals and earn a second consecutive NIT bid, for the 11th postseason berth in Martelli's career.

In 2011-12, Martelli and the Hawks became one of nine teams in the nation to win 20 games after losing 20 the previous season, and returned to the postseason with an NIT bid. SJU boasted a young and exciting squad, and one of the most balanced in school history, as five different players received Atlantic 10 honors, the most ever for the Hawks. SJU also scored two wins over Top 25 teams (Creighton and Temple) and Martelli became SJU's all-time leader in victories.

Phil and Judy Martelli

In 2010-11, Martelli guided the youngest squad in his career, which included three freshman starters. The Hawks made an exciting late-season run, earning a berth in the Atlantic 10 Tournament with a win in the final regular-season game, and won two games in the tourney to reach the semifinals. He reached two milestones with his 300th career victory (March 11) and his 150th conference win (March 5), while also coaching his 500th game and 250th A-10 contest.

Martelli's 2009-10 squad went 11-20 coming off a 2008-09 season that saw the Hawks go 17-15 for his ninth consecutive winning season. Among the highlights of '08-09 was Ahmad Nivins earning AP Honorable Mention All-America honors and becoming the third Hawk in six years to garner the Atlantic 10's Player of the Year Award. Nivins was chosen by the Dallas Mavericks in the 2009 NBA Draft, becoming the third player coached by Martelli to be drafted.

The 2007-08 Hawks reached the Atlantic 10 Championship game for the third time in four years and earned the program's 19th bid to the NCAA Tournament and Martelli's fifth. The 11th-seeded Hawks fell to sixth-seeded Oklahoma in the NCAA First Round, ending the year at 21-13.

He reached a significant milestone in 2006-07 when he surpassed Hall of Famer Jack Ramsay for second place on the school's all-time list for wins, guiding a young squad to 18 victories.

Martelli turned in another top-notch coaching performance in 2005-06. The Hawks went from a 10-12 record to win the final five games of the regular season and three straight in the conference tournament to reach the Atlantic 10 Championship for the second year in a row, falling just one point short of the title. The Hawks were rewarded with their sixth consecutive postseason bid in the NIT, and reached the second round, while the team finished 19-14.

His effort was similar to the previous season where he turned in perhaps a more remarkable coaching job than in 2003-04 when he was the consensus National Coach of the Year. Faced with the loss of two NBA first-round draft picks from the '03-04 squad that went 30-2, the 2004-05 Hawks struggled early on, but Martelli reworked the team's style of play to guide SJU to 21 wins in the calendar year of 2005 to finish 24-12. Saint Joseph's posted the conference's best record (14-2) and won its fifth straight regular-season title to tie the league record. The Hawks garnered the top seed in the conference

* Won conference tournament

Phil Martelli set the school record for victories when Saint Joseph's defeated Morgan State on December 28, 2011. It was the 310th win of Martelli's career, breaking the mark of 309 held by Bill Ferguson. He now has 414 victories.

tournament for the second year in a row and reached the championship game. He was named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the second straight season and the fourth time in his career. The Hawks earned their fifth consecutive postseason bid and made an exciting six-game run in the NIT, falling on a last-second shot in the championship game.

In 2003-04, Martelli guided a focused and unselfish squad that became the most compelling story in college basketball. The Hawks went undefeated in the regular season, reached the pinnacle as the top-ranked team in the nation and earned the school's first-ever number-one seed in the NCAA Tournament, advancing to the Elite Eight. Jameer Nelson was the consensus National Player of the Year and, along with teammate Delonte West, was a first-round selection in the NBA Draft. The Hawks became the first team since 1990-91 to go through the regular season without a loss (27-0). SJU opened the season ranked 12th in the polls and moved up throughout the year, taking the top spot on March 8, 2004, for the first time ever. SJU finished fifth for its highest final ranking since 1966. It was a school-record fourth straight season, and fifth in Martelli's tenure, that the Hawks were ranked in the AP poll.

Making their fourth NCAA appearance in nine seasons, the top-seeded Hawks reached the Elite Eight for the first time since 1981 before falling to Oklahoma State in a heartbreaker, 64-62.

Martelli joined Nelson to sweep the National Coach and Player of the Year awards, marking one of the few times in history that the top player and coach were from the same school. Martelli won the 2004 Naismith Award, the Henry Iba Award (USBWA), the inaugural Adolph Rupp Cup, the Coach of the Year awards from both the Associated Press and CBS/Chevrolet, and the NABC Co-Coach of the Year award. He was the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the third time and a repeat winner of the Big 5 Coach of the Year award.

During that season, the Hawks also won their second outright Big 5 title under Martelli and their fourth straight Atlantic 10 regular season crown. The squad was the recipient of the prestigious Wanamaker Award, given to the team or athlete which brings the greatest credit to the city of Philadelphia, and was named the Team of the Year by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

One of the more colorful coaches in the nation, Martelli's personality, wit and accessibility have always made him a media favorite. His popularity grew to an even higher level in 2004, as the Hawks remained unbeaten and the coach was besieged by media requests from all over the country. Martelli remained as accommodating as ever and the Saint Joseph's story was well-documented by the Philadelphia press and told by countless media outlets nationwide. He continues to be called on for his opinion on basketball issues and was an in-studio guest for the Turner Networks coverage of the 2011 NCAA Tournament.

Martelli's commitment to Saint Joseph's is equaled by the University's commitment to him. It was announced in October 2015 that the coach and SJU had agreed to terms for a multi-year contract extension.

He served as the head coach of the 2005 USA Under-21 World Championship Team, which competed at the FIBA U21 World Championship in Argentina, earning a fifth-place finish. He had previously worked with USA Basketball as an assistant coach for the USA's gold-medal winning teams at both the 2001 FIBA World Championship for Young Men and the 1998 Goodwill Games.

Martelli added the title of "author" to his résumé, in 2007, when he co-wrote a book, "Don't Call Me Coach: A Lesson Plan for Life" with Harold Gullan, Ph.D.

He is not only passionate for coaching, but also for his work in the community. He serves as the chair of the Coaches vs. Cancer National Council as well as the co-chair of the Philadelphia chapter of Coaches vs. Cancer, which is one of the top fundraising groups in the country. In 2012, he received the Distinguished Service Award from the American Cancer Society's Southeast Region. Martelli and the Philadelphia coaches were honored at the 2004 NCAA Final Four with the NABC's Coaches vs. Cancer Champion Award and with the Community Service Award from the Philadelphia Sports Congress. In 2012, the Philadelphia coaches were honored with the Institute for Sport, Spirituality and Character Development Award as presented by Neumann University. More recently, he was the co-recipient of the Circle of Honor Award given by the American Cancer Society in 2017 while also receiving the "Good Guy" Award from the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association in that same year.

Martelli views himself as an ambassador for the University and takes the role very seriously. He is one of the most sought-after public speakers in Philadelphia, with an appeal that stretches even further outside the area. Making countless appearances year-round, he finds the time for many organizations, no matter how large or small.

The coach has received numerous honors for his community work, highlighted by three honorary degrees. Martelli's alma mater, Widener University, bestowed upon him one of its highest honors on May 15, 2004 with an honorary doctorate in public service for his "altruistic work in the community and his positive influence as a teacher, coach and role model." On May 21, 2006, he addressed the graduates of Cabrini College and received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree in recognition of his "extraordinary career and service to the community." And in 2010, Martelli gave the commencement address at Immaculata University, while receiving a doctorate of humane letters.

He was also named the "Citizen of the Year" by the March of Dimes in 2004, was inducted into the CYO Hall of Fame for the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, and was honored by the National Adoption Center. In 2006, Martelli was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Kennedy-Kenrick High School (formerly Bishop Kenrick), where he coached.

After 10 years as an assistant at SJU, Martelli was named the 14th coach in school history on July 20, 1995, and was just the third non-alumnus to follow in the storied tradition of Hawk coaches.

Martelli burst onto the scene in 1995-96 and took SJU to the NIT Championship game, becoming just the fifth first-year head coach to take a team to the tournament's Final Four since the field expanded to 32 teams in 1980. Martelli led the Hawks, which had lost the school's all-time leading scorer and a 1,000-point, 1,000-rebound performer, to a 19-13 record, tying him for third place with Jim Lynam (1978-79) for victories by a first-year SJU coach.

Expectations for 1996-97 were for a winning campaign. And after a disheartening season-opening rout at Duke (89-60) in the first round of the Preseason NIT, Martelli and his charges regrouped and turned in one of the best seasons in the program's history. The team's accomplishments, most of which have now been surpassed by the '03-04 team, included a then-record-tying 26 wins (seven losses), and a final national ranking of 12th by the Associated Press and 17th by CNN/USA Today. The squad also put together a 10-game winning streak and three wins over Top 25 teams while winning both the Atlantic 10 regular season and tournament titles. The Hawks advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 before suffering a loss to defending national champion Kentucky. He garnered Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year honors as well as being named District Coach of the Year by the USBWA, NABC, Eastern Basketball and Basketball Times. Martelli was also named the Eastern College Coach of the Year and was the co-recipient of the Big 5 award.

Martelli's third year at the helm was a true test as the season started with the loss of a key player to academics and two recruits to NCAA initial eligibility rules. Despite the depleted lineup, the coach kept the team competitive throughout the season, while facing one of the most demanding schedules in school history. They totaled 11 wins, but the "never say die" spirit was evidenced as SJU held late leads over five nationally-ranked teams.

In 1998-99, the Hawk mentor guided a team that started a school-record four newcomers. Martelli and SJU got off to a strong start, defeating No. 21 Tennessee and winning the Cable Car Classic en route to a 9-7 record at mid-January. Youth finally caught up to the Hawks, however, as the team experienced a nine-game losing streak and finished the season with a 12-18 overall mark.

The 1999-2000 season included many highlights as the coach guided the team to a stunning 62-59 win over then-No. 5 Temple at The Palestra on February 29. It was Martelli's first win over Temple and the program's first win over a Top 5 team since February, 1984 (No. 2 DePaul). The team's 13-16 record was deceiving as the Hawks played a schedule ranked 32nd toughest in the nation.

Picked by most as a middle-of-the-pack Atlantic 10 team in 2000-01, SJU posted a 7-3 record in its first 10 games, and finished even stronger, going 14-2 in the conference to win the single division A-10 regular season title. Overall, the Hawks again tied the then-school-record for wins, compiling a 26-7 mark. The team moved into the Top 25 in both major polls in February, and was ranked in the final polls (No. 22 AP; No. 24 ESPN/USA Today).

Despite its ranking, and the presence of one of the nation's finest backcourts in junior Marvin O'Connor and National Freshman of the Year Jameer Nelson, SJU earned an at-large bid as the number-nine seed. The Hawks responded by downing eighth-seeded Georgia Tech, 66-62, in the first round of the West Regional in San Diego. The team then showed its true mettle, battling top seed Stanford in one of the most exciting games of the NCAA Tournament before falling, 90-83.

As in 1996-97, Martelli picked up much-deserved hardware following the season. He was named Coach of the Year by the Atlantic 10, NABC (District III) and Philadelphia's Basketball Writers (Eastern College Coach of the Year). Nationally, he was a finalist for the national Coach of the Year by ESPN the Magazine and also a finalist for the Naismith College Basketball Coach of the Year award.

In the 2001-02 preseason, the Hawks were ranked as high as eighth by Sports Illustrated and 10th by both major polls. SJU stayed in the polls until mid-December when three straight losses (North Carolina, Georgia State and Gonzaga), all coinciding with an injury to All-American guard O'Connor, saw the team fall from the rankings. Saint Joseph's rebounded to post a 19-12 record, share the A-10 East title for Martelli's third regular-season crown, and earn its fourth postseason bid in seven years (NIT).

In 2002-03, after graduating four fifth-year seniors that compiled over 5,000 points and 2,200 rebounds, the Hawks were picked to be in the middle of the A-10 East Division. With arguably the nation's best point guard in the fold in Nelson, Martelli built the team around defense and perimeter play. The plan worked as SJU went on to lead the nation in field goal percentage defense (.372) and ranked seventh in scoring defense (59.5 ppg). The team cracked the national polls in February and ended the season with its third straight A-10 regular season title, second NCAA at-large bid in three seasons and a 23-7 record, despite a late-season injury to Delonte West.

Off the court, Martelli's lighter side has been featured weekly on his HawkTalk television show, which ran for 15 seasons as the most unique coach's show in the nation, with a "Tonight Show" format. Game highlights were included, but were secondary to the jokes and humorous interviews. Named the best coach's show in college basketball by The Sporting News in 2001, HawkTalk gained a much greater audience in its third year (1998-99), with its move to Comcast SportsNet, Philadelphia's regional all-sports station. The show's viewer base grew even more in 2003-04, when national network CBS College Sports aired the show for five years.

A four-time Atlantic 10 (1997, 2000, 2004, 2005) and four-time USBWA District Coach of the Year (1997, 2001, 2003, 2004), Martelli is one of just three Hawk coaches to record 200 career wins, posting his milestone victory against Buffalo on March 19, 2005.

A 1976 graduate of Widener University, Martelli began his career on Hawk Hill with SJU's 1985-86 team, which reached the NCAA Tournament. In his decade as an assistant, he was part of the Hawks' NIT teams in 1992-93 and 1994-95.

Prior to his arrival at SJU, Martelli spent seven years as head basketball coach at Bishop Kenrick High School in Norristown, Pa. At Kenrick, he led his team to six straight Catholic League playoff appearances, a school record, and still owns the school's all-time mark for wins with 108. His best season came in 1982, when he was named Prep Coach of the Year by both the Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News. He earned similar honors in both 1980 and 1982 for Montgomery County from the Norristown Times-Herald.

Martelli began his career as the junior varsity coach at Cardinal O'Hara High in Springfield, Pa., for the 1976-77 season. He moved on the following year to become an assistant at his alma mater, where he helped guide Widener to the NCAA Division III Final Four. After that season, he accepted the head job at Kenrick.

As a player, he was part of Widener's NCAA Tournament teams in both 1974-75 and 1975-76, serving as team co-captain as a senior. A point guard, he also set the school's single season and career assist marks.

Martelli and his wife, Judy, a former basketball player with the national champion Immaculata College teams in the 1970s, have three children, Phil, Jr., Jimmy, and Elizabeth. Phil, Jr., along with Elizabeth, are Saint Joseph's graduates, while he and Jimmy both hold NCAA Division I basketball positions. Phil, Jr. is an assistant coach at Bryant University while Jimmy is the director of operations at VCU. Phil and Judy have eight grandchildren – Philip Stephen, Marra, Avery, Brynley, Madalyn, Nolan, Callan and Nathan.

Phil Martelli is among a group of 30 active coaches in Division I who are their school's all-time leader in wins.

PHIL MARTELLI

Phil Martelli and Jameer Nelson collected all of the national Coach of the Year and Player of the Year Awards in 2004. The climax of the whirlwind awards tour was Nelson capturing the John R. Wooden Award and having the opportunity to meet coaching legend John Wooden at the awards ceremony in Los Angeles.

MARK BASS

Assistant Coach
20th Season

Mark Bass, one of the most prolific shooters in Saint Joseph's history, is the veteran among the Hawks' assistant coaches. He is now entering his 20th season at his alma mater and is the longest tenured assistant coach in SJU men's basketball history.

Bass joined the Hawks' staff in 1999-2000 and during his tenure, has been involved with teams that have made six consecutive post-season appearances, won five Atlantic 10 regular-season titles and captured the 2014 and 2016 A-10 titles. Nine years after he led the Hawks to the NIT Final as a player in 1996, Bass again helped SJU reach New York City and the NIT Final as a coach in 2005.

In 2005, Bass was honored with the William J. Bennett Memorial Award, recognizing dedication and loyalty to the Saint Joseph's men's basketball program. He was a co-recipient of the award with then-fellow staff member Monté Ross.

A fiery leader on the court, and two-year team captain, Bass led the Hawks to the NIT Finals in his senior season, 1995-96, and ranked second on the team with his average of 14.3 points per game. He connected for school records of 91 3-pointers and 268 attempts, season marks which were later eclipsed by Pat Carroll in 2005. A Second Team All-Big 5 selection in 1996, Bass made 225 three-pointers during his career from 1992-96, a total that now ranks sixth on the Hawks' all-time list. As a freshman, the guard led the Atlantic 10 Conference in free throw percentage with a school-record 86.9 percent, a mark which was broken by Langston Galloway in 2011-12 (88.7). Bass also led the A-10 in three-point percentage as a junior (.423), making him just the second Saint Joseph's player to lead the league in two different categories.

In 2001, Bass became the first member of the 1996 NIT Finalist team to be inducted into the Saint Joseph's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Upon graduation he played one season of professional basketball with the Tianjin Breakers in the Chinese Professional League in 1996-97. Following that, he served two seasons (1997-99) as an assistant coach under Max Good at Maine Central Institute, helping guide the team to back-to-back New England Prep School Championships, including a perfect 35-0 season in 1997-98.

A 1991 graduate of McCorristin High School in New Jersey and native of Trenton, Bass was named the Mercer County Player of the Year as a senior and set the all-time scoring record with 1,482 points in his career. He played for one year at Maine Central Institute, helping the squad to a 27-1 record with the lone loss coming in the New England Prep School Championship game. He was inducted into the Mercer County CYO Hall of Fame in November, 2004.

Bass resides with his wife, Tracie, and their sons, James Noel and Jordan Richard, in Lawnside, N.J.

13th Season

David Duda is in his 13th season at Saint Joseph's having added head coaching experience to the staff.

At Saint Joseph's, Duda has been instrumental in the development of the Hawks' post players, such as A-10 All-Conference selection Ronald Roberts, Jr., and 2009 Atlantic 10 Player of the Year Ahmad Nivins. He has also been part of the Hawks' teams which have captured two Atlantic 10 titles in the past four seasons.

Duda came to SJU in 2006 after eight years as head coach at Widener University, where he compiled a 143-68 record, with two Middle Atlantic Conference Commonwealth championships and three trips to the NCAA Division III Tournament. He also served as Widener's athletic director from 2003 to 2006, overseeing the operation of the University's athletics program with 20 varsity teams.

Widener enjoyed its greatest success under his leadership in 2005-06, when the team finished 23-6, won the Commonwealth Conference regular-season title and made the school's first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance since 1987. Duda earned Coach of the Year honors for both the Commonwealth Conference and the NABC Mid-Atlantic Region.

Duda led the Pioneers to a record-breaking 24-4 season in 1999-2000 and was recognized as MAC Coach of the Year.

A 1988 graduate of Spring Garden College, where he was a two-time honorable mention All-American, Duda began his coaching career as the top assistant to Herb Magee at Philadelphia University.

During those seven seasons the Rams had their most successful period in school history, and Philadelphia University was the winningest Division II school in the country during that span with a 171-35 record.

He moved on to be the head coach at Delaware Valley College in 1997 for two seasons. Duda turned around a team which had been 0-23, leading it to a 12-12 mark for the first non-losing season in 11 years. He earned the Freedom Conference Coach of the Year award in 1998. His career coaching record in 10 seasons is 159-99.

Duda's connection with the Hawks' head coach dates back to 1981 when he played for Martelli on the varsity team at Bishop Kenrick High School (1981-84).

Duda lives in Collegeville, Pa., with his wife, Barbara, and children, Danielle and David.

The 1986 graduate of Saint Joseph's is now in his second tenure as a full-time assistant coach, as he was a volunteer assistant coach on Jim Boyle's staff in 1988-89, giving him a total of 14 years on the Hawks' bench. Arnold has been part of three of the Hawks' four Atlantic 10 Championships, as a player in 1986 and as an assistant coach in 2014 and 2016.

Prior to making his return to Saint Joseph's, Arnold was the associate head coach at Drexel University for seven years. While there, he was instrumental in the Dragons' recruiting efforts that helped them reach the postseason four times in seven seasons, including a 23-9 record in 2006-07.

He previously served as an assistant coach with the Hawks from 1993 to 1996. That stint included one year with Martelli, who was in his first season (1995-96) as head coach, where the Hawks went 26-6 and reached the NIT Championship game.

Arnold left Saint Joseph's in 1997 to join former Hawk teammate Bruiser Flint at the University of Massachusetts, serving on Flint's staff for five years. He then returned to Philadelphia in 2001 when Flint was named head coach at Drexel.

Arnold was a senior tri-captain for the 1985-86 Saint Joseph's team that won the Atlantic 10 Championship, recorded 26 wins and earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament. During his senior season, which was Martelli's first as an assistant coach at SJU, the guard averaged 8.9 points and led the team with 134 assists. He was inducted into the Saint Joseph's Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992.

Upon graduation from Saint Joseph's, Arnold played for the Wildwood Aces of the United States Basketball League and then served as an assistant coach for one season. After one year out of basketball, he became a full-time assistant with the Hawks in 1993-94, working on John Griffin's staff for three seasons.

Originally from Sharon Hill, Pa. and Darby Township High School, Arnold is the uncle of former Hawk star Langston Galloway, who is with the NBA's Detroit Pistons.

He was inducted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame - Delaware County in 2018, along with his late brother, Chris, who starred in three sports at Darby Township.

Arnold and his wife, Dr. Stephanie Tryce, who is a marketing professor at Saint Joseph's, reside in Philadelphia with their daughter, Gabrielle, a senior at SJU, who is a basketball team manager.

THE HAWK

One of the most famous mascots in college sports, the Saint Joseph's Hawk is in its 63rd year in 2018-19.

The Hawk is best known for staying in constant motion by flapping its wings throughout every basketball game and representing the Saint Joseph's motto, "The Hawk Will Never Die."

Jim Brennan originated the idea for a hawk as mascot during the 1954-55 season. Brennan, an ex-Marine and SJU cheerleader, at first wanted to secure an actual hawk, but later switched to the costume idea. The student government raised the 120 dollars needed to buy the initial costume, which Brennan donned for three years. He made his debut as the Hawk on January 4, 1956, a 69-56 win over La Salle at the Palestra. Since then, and including this season, a total of 31 SJU students have donned the costume. The Hawk has not missed a men's basketball game since that first season in 1955-56.

During the 62 seasons of the Hawk, there have been three women to serve as the mascot - Sarah Brennan in 2000-01, Brienne Ryan in 2009-10 and Mikaela Bakey in 2017-18.

In addition to the constant flapping, the Hawk is also recognized by its "flying" in figure eights around the court during timeouts. Years ago, ESPN used a "flap-o-meter" on the national telecast of a Saint Joseph's game to estimate that the Hawk flaps its wings 3,500 times during a regulation game.

The Hawk is unique because it is one of the few mascots in the nation that travels to every game, and the student who holds the position gains a tuition scholarship. The student, who is selected through an interview process during the previous spring semester, also serves as a team manager for the men's basketball team and travels with the squad.

The most decorated mascot in the country, The Hawk has garnered numerous accolades in its 60-year history. In 2013-14, NCAA.com named The Hawk as "College Basketball's Best Tradition". The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Sports Illustrated for Kids, Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook and ESPN College Basketball magazine have selected it as the nation's top mascot. Eastern Basketball tabbed The Hawk as the Atlantic 10 Conference's best mascot, while The Hawk won a "Best of Philly" award from Philadelphia Magazine in 2003-04. The Hawk was selected as a 2008 nominee for the Mascot Hall of Fame.

Saint Joseph's athletic teams have been recognized with the nickname "Hawks" since 1929. At that time, the school's yearbook editor, Charlie Dunn, initiated a contest among the student body for a symbol. More than 100 submissions were narrowed to two, with "Hawks" winning out over "Grenadiers" (World War I soldiers who specialized in tossing grenades) by a slim margin in the final vote.

John Gallagher '31, a catcher on the Saint Joseph's baseball team, submitted the winning suggestion. He won a sweater with a special Saint Joseph's monogram for selecting the winning name. According to the Student Annual, the nickname was appropriate because it typified "the fighting spirit of our crimson and gray athletes and it is suggestive of the aerial attack which has made our football team famous." Ironically, football was discontinued at Saint Joseph's following the 1939 season.

But it has been the connection with the storied tradition of the Saint Joseph's men's and women's basketball programs that has given The Hawk mascot its prominence on the national level, making it one of the most recognized mascots in college athletics.

HISTORY

BY THE NUMBERS

1 The national ranking Saint Joseph's earned in both the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today polls of March 8, 2004. It marked the first time ever that the Hawks were the nation's top-ranked team during the regular season. HAGAN ARENA

A new era of Saint Joseph's basketball began on October 17, 2009, with the dedication of the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena.

The opening of the arena was the culmination of the two-year expansion and renovation of Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse, which was the home of the Hawks since 1949. Hagan Arena added approximately 1,000 seats to stretch the capacity to 4,200, while providing numerous other amenities that were not available in the Fieldhouse.

The Hawks played the first game in the arena against city rival Drexel, on November 13, 2009. A standing-room-only crowd saw an exciting 77-67 overtime win for Saint Joseph's.

During the 2011-12 season, the Hawks recorded a few firsts for the arena. SJU posted its first win over a ranked opponent in the building when it upset 19th-ranked Creighton on December 10. Saint Joseph's also hosted rival Villanova on campus for the first time ever and a standing-room-only crowd cheered the Hawks on to a 74-58 victory. The Hawks also hosted A-10 rival Temple on campus for the first time since 2001 and scored an 82-72 win over the #22 Owls to earn a share of the Big 5 title.

The Hawks are 81-43 in nine seasons at Hagan Arena, but own an all-time record of 400-125 on campus, at both Hagan and Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse combined.

Over the past few years, updates have been made to the arena to enhance the fan experience, such as improved concession stands and courtside seats. A recent highlight was the installation of an LED centerhung display board, which provides fans with game action, replays and in-game entertainment.

More enhancements are being unveiled in 2018-19, which marks the 10th season in Hagan Arena. They are:

- A new state-of-the-art lighting system that will greatly enhance special effects and production capability within the arena
- A free public Wifi network — "Hagan Guest" — which is available to all fans and is compatible with all common mobile devices
- The popular "Fan Fest" concept has been expanded to include beer and wine sales at all men's and women's games
- A completely refurbished Hall of Fame Room that will be a prime V.I.P. entertainment and special events location.

"Our fans' passion, physical presence and vocal support emboldens our team, psychologically challenges our opponents, and creates an atmosphere that is second to none."
- Phil Martelli

"Fan Fest" made its debut during the 2017-18 season and became a meeting spot for Hawk fans prior to the game.

GREAT FIELDHOUSE MOMENTS

Saint Joseph's win over Xavier on March 6, 2008, marked the final game in Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse before an extensive expansion and renovation project was to begin. Here's a look at some of the most memorable games in Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse history, in chronological order.

February 25, 1978: Under coach Rene Portland, another former Immaculata star, the women's team defeats No. 10 Montclair State, 85-76. It is the Hawks' third win over a Top 10 team at the Fieldhouse that season.

THE PALESTRA

Saint Joseph's has utilized The Palestra as an alternate home venue ever since the beginning of competition of the Philadelphia Big 5 in 1955, playing a number of games there every year. The 2018-19 season marks the 64th consecutive season in which Saint Joseph's will play at least one game at The Palestra, which remains an integral part of SJU basketball history.

Saint Joseph's "home away from home," the historic Palestra was the Hawks' full-time homecourt for the 2008-09 season as Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse was closed due to the expansion and renovation project. SJU played 13 home games at The Palestra on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania that season, with the only exception being the season opener against Rider, which was played at the Wachovia Center.

Once the Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena was completed in 2009-10, the Hawks continued playing a few key city games at The Palestra. Having won 67 percent of its Palestra games over the years, Saint Joseph's will have two games there this year, against 2018 NCAA Final Four team Loyola Chicago and host school Penn in the annual Big 5 game.

First opened during the 1926-27 season, the building is one of the premier basketball meccas in the world. The 8,722-seat arena has been the home for more than 70 years of Penn basketball and 50 years of Big 5 doubleheaders. It has hosted a multitude of events, including 50 NCAA Tournament games as part of 19 national championship competitions, as well as numerous NIT contests, a season of women's professional games (American Basketball League), and even NBA games in the early history of the league.

The Palestra was cited as "Host to the first NCAA basketball championship game in 1939, and countless classic Philadelphia Big 5 matchups." It is the subject of a 2007 documentary film, The Palestra: Cathedral of Basketball.

It was mentioned at the top of the list of "Must Visit Sports Shrines" in Sports Illustrated's (SI.com) "100 Things You Have to Do Before You Graduate." It was also ranked 34th in ESPN.com's list of the "America's 100 Most Important Sports Venues."

During the summer of 2008 a new floor was installed, replacing one which had existed since the 1980s. The Palestra's lower seating bowl was reconfigured in the summer of 2013, and with that renovation, press row was moved from its longtime home behind the benches and scorer's table to floor level opposite the benches.

The Palestra has been Saint Joseph's "home away from home" since 1955 with the Hawks playing numerous classic Big 5 games there.

Larry Kenney earned All-America honors in 1940 for Coach Bill Ferguson's team.

The "Mighty Mites," so dubbed because of their noticeable lack of size, are among the many Hawk basketball legends. The group (clockwise from left) - Jim Smale, Matt Guokas, Sr., John Kenny, Joe Oakes, Dan Kenney and John McMenamin - led SJU to a combined 54-17 mark over a four-year period (1934-38). They made up for their lack of height with quick passing, smothering defense and an assortment of gadget plays. They were inducted into the Saint Joseph's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000 as a group, along with their coach Bill Ferguson.

NBA COACHES

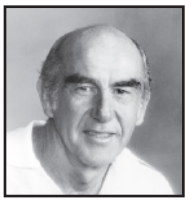

Coaching Dynasty

The Saint Joseph's coaching connection is an impressive one. Seven Saint Joseph's University graduates have gone on to head coaching positions in the NBA. Jim O'Brien (SJU '74) who coached the Indiana Pacers until 2011, is the most recent one. SJU is tied with Illinois for second on the list of universities with alumni that have served as head coaches in the NBA. Indiana University leads with 11 graduates that have coached in the league.

Jameer Nelson was chosen by Denver as the 20th overall pick in the 2004 Draft, but his rights were traded to Orlando that evening. An NBA All-Star in 2009, Nelson spent 10 years with the Magic and completed his 14th NBA season in 2018 with the Detroit Pistons.

Delonte West's selection by the Boston Celtics in 2004 gave the Hawks two first-round picks in the same year, marking a first for the SJU program. He went on to play for Seattle, Cleveland and Dallas and also played overseas in China.

DeAndre' Bembry was selected 21st overall by the Atlanta Hawks in the 2016 NBA Draft. He became the 33rd player in SJU history to be drafted, and the sixth to be chosen in the first round.

PHILADELPHIA BIG 5

The Philadelphia Big 5 ... A Philly Tradition

The Philadelphia Big 5 has existed as one of the most unique basketball leagues in the nation for over 60 years.

On November 23, 1954 the administrations at the five major universities in the Philadelphia area agreed to formulate a partnership between their athletic departments. They agreed to participate in a men's basketball round robin, the "City Series", at The Palestra on the University of Pennsylvania's campus. The Big 5 was born. For over 50 years, this partnership has remained intact and defines Philadelphia's collegiate sports tradition, with heated rivalries and fierce competition on the court, partnership and camaraderie off the court. The Philadelphia Big 5 was named the city's "Best Sports Tradition" by the Philadelphia Daily News.

In a city that is passionate about its sports teams, The Philadelphia Big 5 is the embodiment of collegiate sports…it's the 8,722 fans that repeatedly fill the most storied basketball building in the country, the Palestra…it's about earning bragging rights when your school wins the City Series…it's some of the most personable and successful coaches in the business…it's students showing up an hour before the game waiting to erupt when their team takes the floor…it's the look on a freshman's face when he gets thrown into his first City Series game…it's student-athletes collecting canned goods for the poor, mentoring our city's youth, and holding clinics for young players…it's reaching countless fans and alums with something good, something wholesome, something historic..

No other city in the United States is represented by five major Division I Universities.

The Big 5 – only in Philadelphia.

DR. JACK RAMSAY

On April 28, 2014, Saint Joseph's University and the sport of basketball lost one of its greatest coaches, teachers and innovators with the passing of coaching legend Dr. Jack Ramsay. Dr. Jack made his mark in the collegiate and professional ranks, and more recently, as a broadcaster, up until his retirement.

In 11 seasons at Saint Joseph's, he amassed a 234-72 record and guided the Hawks to five straight NCAA Tournament appearances and nine consecutive postseason bids, both of which are school records. His 1961 team made the school's only appearance in the NCAA Final Four and the 1965-66 team was ranked number one in the preseason by Sports Illustrated.

After leaving Saint Joseph's in 1966, he embarked on a successful career in the NBA. In his first job as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers, that team won the 1967 world championship and is still considered one of the most dominant teams in NBA history. As a head coach in the NBA, he won 864 games in 21 seasons and guided the Portland Trailblazers to the 1977 title.

Dr. Jack received the game's highest honor when he was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992. He was honored by Saint Joseph's with the Shield of Loyola Award (1984), as well as induction into the Athletics Hall of Fame (1999) and the Basketball Hall of Fame (1974), and was further recognized by the University in 2009 with the naming of the Ramsay Basketball Center.

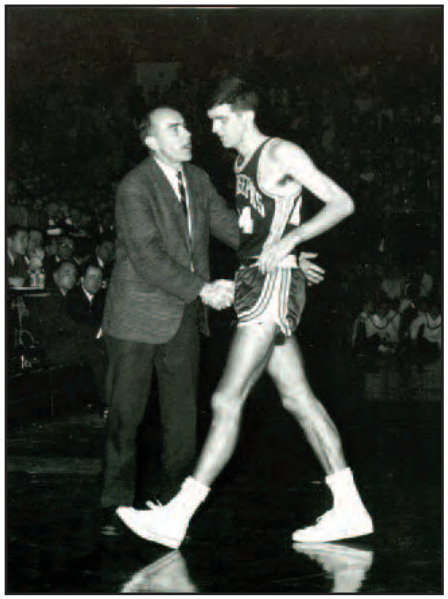

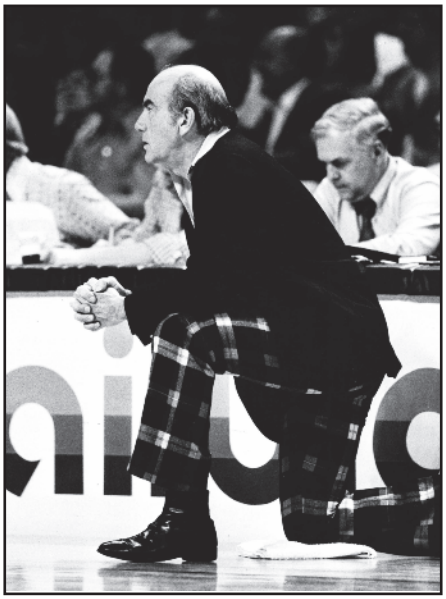

Dr. Jack made what would be his last appearance on campus at the Hawks' game with Creighton in November, 2013, as his 1962-63 team was honored on its 50th anniversary.

Coach Ramsay's total of 1,098 combined wins in his coaching career, both college and pro, remains one of the game's highest totals.

During his 21 seasons as an NBA head coach, Ramsay won 864 games and guided the Portland Trailblazers to the 1977 world championship.

Dr. Jack was inducted into the SJU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1999 (above), but received the game's highest honor with induction into the Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame in 1992.

JAMEER NELSON

Consensus National Player of the Year in 2004... Will go down as arguably the greatest player in school history who helped elevate the SJU program to a new level during the 2003-04 season... Saint Joseph's career leader in points with 2,094, assists with 713 and steals with 256... Number 14 was retired on April 23, 2004... During the course of his career, his Hawk teams compiled a 98-28 record and made four post-season appearances, including a run to the Elite Eight in 2004 and to the Second Round in 2001. It marked the most successful four-year class in school history... Led team to a perfect regular season (27-0), top ranking for one week in national polls, SJU's first-ever number-one seed in the NCAA Tournament and a school-best 30-2 final record... Ranks third among Atlantic 10's all-time career leaders in assists, ninth in points and 10th in steals... Has enjoyed a 14-year career in the NBA with five teams, most recently the Detroit Pistons... Came back to SJU to earn his bachelor's degree and received it at the 2018 Commencement... Inducted into Saint Joseph's Athletics Hall of Fame and Basketball Hall of Fame in 2011 and into the Big 5 Hall of Fame in 2017.

 served as the Hawk for a partial season*

The Hawk has traveled all over the country and been at every game for over 60 years, including all postseason tournaments.

Why Hawk Hill?

In the early 1920s, former University president Albert G. Brown, S.J., decided to move the college campus from its location just north of the city at 17th and Stiles to its current site on Philadelphia's city line. He selected the location in part because its hilltop perch overlooking downtown Philadelphia provided a dramatic setting for the construction of the college's main building, Barbelin Hall. In fact, for many years Barbelin's signature carillon tower ranked as the highest point from sea level in the city of Philadelphia. Later, according to oral tradition, students and faculty frequently saw real hawks circling the skies above Barbelin, before swooping down on their prey. The familiar scene eventually led to the coining of the moniker "Hawk Hill."

Crimson and Gray

The college colors of crimson and gray date back to the 1890s when it is related that a young seminarian leading a pep rally saw the colors on a book he was holding. Thinking they looked attractive together, he announced that these would be the school colors.

"The Hawk Will Never Die!"

The Hawk is one of the most famous mascots in the country, best known for staying in constant motion by flapping its "wings" from tip-off to the final buzzer of every game, as well as for "flying" in figure eights around the court during timeouts. The constant flapping, coupled with the scrappy play of the University's athletic teams, helped to spawn the school's familiar slogan "The Hawk Will Never Die!"

Saint Joseph's spirit squads are an integral part of the Hawks' tradition. The Pep Band, Cheerleaders, and Dance Team support the SJU basketball team at every home game and often travel to postseason play.

Mark C. Reed, Ed.D.
PRESIDENT

Mark C. Reed, Ed.D., became the 28th president of Saint Joseph's University in July of 2015. Since his arrival, Dr. Reed has prioritized sustaining and expanding academic quality and ensuring the University's financial strength through sound management, collaboration and a progressive mindset.

In addition to securing the largest gift in University history — $50M to primarily bolster endowment for both academic programs and student scholarships, Dr. Reed also recently negotiated a partnership with the adjacent, internationally-renown Barnes Foundation. The educational affiliation will sustain Barnes programming and allow for the expansion of Saint Joseph's art and cultural offerings.

His vision for Saint Joseph's takes shape in the University's new bold and forward-thinking strategic plan. Its implementation will secure SJU as a leading comprehensive liberal arts university with a broad academic portfolio; strong liberal arts and sciences core; prominent professional, co-curricular and athletic programs; and a campus that meets and exceeds the expectations of modern learners.

As President, Dr. Reed is deeply committed to understanding and attending to the experience of students, ensuring a rigorous and reflective education that leads graduates to fuller personal and professional lives. He spends time at the heart of the enterprise teaching an undergraduate calculus course as a lecturer in the mathematics department. A product of Jesuit education, Dr. Reed believes in the University's Jesuit tradition and accepts a responsibility to steward its mission as central to his leadership.

Dr. Reed came to Saint Joseph's from Fairfield University in Fairfield, CT, where he served in multiple senior leadership roles over a fifteen-year tenure. An accomplished educator and administrator, Dr. Reed was involved in all aspects of academic and student life, as well as administration, enrollment management, finance, marketing, strategic planning, operations and external affairs.

Currently, Dr. Reed chairs the Council of Presidents for the Atlantic 10 Conference and serves on the Board of Directors for the American Council on Education (ACE), the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities (ACCU), the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Pennsylvania (AICUP), and the City Avenue Special Services District. Additionally, he serves on the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee for the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU), and is Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees for St. Joseph's Preparatory School in Philadelphia.

Dr. Reed received a B.S. in mathematics from Fairfield University, a master of education in secondary educational administration from Boston College, an MBA from Fairfield, and a doctorate of education in higher education management from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Reed selected Jill Bodensteiner as director of athletics in March of 2018, marking the first appointment of a new AD in 30 years. She also became the first woman to hold the post at SJU.

Jill Bodensteiner
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Jill Bodensteiner began her tenure as director of athletics at Saint Joseph's University on June 1, 2018, joining SJU after an impressive 20-year career at her alma mater, the University of Notre Dame. She will oversee the Hawks' 20 NCAA Division I men's and women's varsity sports and membership in the Atlantic 10 Conference.

Her appointment marked the first time in 30 years that a new athletics director had been chosen at SJU, while she is the first woman in the school's history to hold the post. She succeeds Don DiJulia, who retired at the end of the 2017-18 academic year after serving his 50th year in college athletics and 35th as Saint Joseph's athletics director.

Bodensteiner's career at Notre Dame began in 1997 in the Office of the General Counsel, progressed to the athletic department in 2009, and culminated in her most recent role as senior associate athletics director five years ago.

Among her accomplishments, Bodensteiner provided oversight to Notre Dame's 26 intercollegiate athletics programs, 720 student-athletes and 70 coaches and served as sport administrator for the university's nationally renowned, and 2018 national champion women's basketball program. She brings to Saint Joseph's strong NCAA leadership experience, having served on the Committee on Women's Athletics and the Division I Women's Basketball Committee. Working closely with LEAD1, the Atlantic Coast Conference and the NCAA, Bodensteiner played a key role in shaping the national debate and final legislation in areas including financial support for student-athletes, time management and academic conduct.

"This marks a new era in Saint Joseph's University's Athletics program, and I am proud that our university is continuing to make history in the most groundbreaking and forward-looking ways," said University President Mark C. Reed, Ed.D. "I could not be more enthusiastic about Jill's appointment and the experience, leadership and vision she brings to the position and to Saint Joseph's."

Dr. Reed added: "College athletics grounded in strong Jesuit education is a cornerstone of our history and tradition and a point of passion for thousands of our students, alumni and Hawks fans around the globe. A Notre Dame veteran like Jill understands this ethos and is perfectly suited to build on the highly successful program that Don DiJulia has stewarded."

At the announcement of her appointment on March 20, 2018, Bodensteiner said, "At an institution like Saint Joseph's, there needs to be a balance between tradition and innovation. I promise to work hard to preserve the tremendous tradition at St. Joe's, while always pushing us to think bigger and bolder.

"We will participate in athletics in a manner consistent with our Jesuit tradition. We will win the right way, by following rules, displaying great sportsmanship, and otherwise making our passionate fans proud to be Hawks," she continued. "We will demand that our student-athletes are students and that they aren't simply graduating, but that they are engaging academically, in student life, and in the community."

One of her first initiatives at Saint Joseph's was starting a bi-weekly podcast, "Jill on the Hill." Each episode of the podcast will feature a segment with Saint Joseph's alumni in the sports industry and with current SJU student-athletes and coaches. In addition, Bodensteiner will offer her take on a relevant issue in college athletics.

Before joining the Notre Dame Office of the General Counsel in 1997, Bodensteiner specialized in employment litigation as an associate at two law firms, Seyfarth Shaw in Chicago and Bryan Cave LLP in St. Louis. A member of the bar in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, she also clerked for the Honorable Catherine Perry, a United States District Court judge in St. Louis.

The native of Valparaiso, Indiana, received her bachelor's degree in psychology and sociology from Notre Dame, her juris doctorate from Washington University Law School in St. Louis, and her MBA from Notre Dame's Mendoza College of Business. She has been an active community service leader, serving as Chair of the Board of the YWCA North Central Indiana and volunteering with several other nonprofit organizations.

ON THE AIR

The Saint Joseph's Sports Network (SJSN) marks its 29th year of operation in 2018-19. Since its beginnings in 1990, SJSN's coverage of Hawk athletics has grown and included Phil Martelli's HawkTalk radio program and the nationally-renowned HawkTalk television show, which ran for 15 years.

Saint Joseph's will continue to have a comprehensive package on commercial radio in Philadelphia. The majority of Hawks' games will be carried this season by Talk Radio 1210 WPHT (AM). Hawk fans everywhere will also be able to hear the broadcast of every game through audio streaming at the Hawks' official athletics site, www.SJUHawks.com, which is provided free of charge. Fans can also take those broadcasts on-the-go, with the SJUHawks app for mobile devices.

Matt Martucci

PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Matt Martucci is in his 10th season as the Hawks' radio play-by-play announcer. He has been with the Saint Joseph's Sports Network since 2006 and has called more than 250 men's basketball games alongside broadcast partner Joe Lunardi including the Hawks' last two Atlantic 10 championship and NCAA Tournament runs.

A 2006 graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Martucci currently calls college football, basketball, and lacrosse for the newly formed digital and over-the-air network Stadium. He was hired by Florida-based network beIN Sports in 2016 as their lead play-by-play announcer for Conference USA football on the network's first-ever broadcast of college sports. He has also called ACC soccer and Conference USA basketball for Fox Sports Regional TV and also broadcasts pro, college, and top 25 high school lacrosse for Lax Sports Network, the first-ever 24-hour all-digital network of its kind.

Martucci has worked as the producer for both Phil Martelli's HawkTalk television and radio shows and currently serves as on-air talent for select audio and video features on Hawks' All-Access. He joined SportsRadio 94WIP in May 2016 as an update anchor and talk show host after spending five years at competing station 97.5 The Fanatic, where he co-hosted the "Gallen and Martucci" with CBS3's Pat Gallen for two years.

The 34-year-old made his debut with Westwood One Sports as an update anchor during its coverage of the 2014 Sochi Olympic Winter Games. He had the same role for the 2016 Rio Summer Olympics and the 2018 Pyeongchang Winter Games. Martucci, who received the William J. Bennett Award for dedication and loyalty to the SJU men's basketball program in 2011, began his broadcasting career with WAER FM 88 at Syracuse University. He resides in South Jersey with his wife, Stephanie, and daughter, Adria, born just a few weeks after the Eagles won the Super Bowl.

Talk Radio 1210 WPHT Philadelphia

Joe Lunardi and Matt Martucci enter their 10th season as the Hawks' broadcast team in 2018-19.

Joe Lunardi

COLOR ANALYST

Joe Lunardi enters his 29th season on the Saint Joseph's Sports Network (SJSN) as color analyst and has served as co-host of Phil Martelli's "HawkTalk," both on radio and television. He covered his 1,000th SJU game in 2016.

Last year, Lunardi took on a new role as director of marketing and broadcast services for the Athletic Department, following more than three decades as the University's senior communications and marketing professional. A 1982 Saint Joseph's graduate, Lunardi returned to his alma mater in 1987 as director of media relations. He later served as director of external relations, director of university communications, assistant vice president for marketing communications and finally vice president for marketing and communications.

Away from the University, Lunardi is the nationally-known "Bracketologist" for ESPN. His ESPN.com bracketology site generates over 30 million hits per season. He does numerous public speaking engagements each year on behalf of Saint Joseph's University, the Atlantic 10 and college basketball.

In 1995 and 2004, Lunardi received the William J. Bennett Award for dedication and loyalty to the SJU men's basketball program. Lunardi and his wife, Pam, a 1984 SJU graduate, reside in Drexel Hill, Pa., and have two daughters, Emily and current SJU junior Elizabeth.

Why S-a-i-n-t Joseph's University?

The corporate title "S-a-i-n-t" Joseph's University, which has been in place since Saint Joseph's was granted university status by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1979, is now the public title of the institution for all aspects of its operations. Previously, the abbreviation "St." Joseph's University was permitted in a number of alumni and athletic contexts.

The vast majority of academic and government publications have referred to Saint Joseph's University since at least 1986, as have most campus references with the exception of athletics. However, university-wide "image campaign" revealed the need to clarify this policy both internally and externally.

There are at least nine recognized "St. Joseph's" among the nation's colleges and universities. Only one of them – Saint Joseph's University, Philadelphia – is a university-level, Master's I, NCAA Division I institution. A complete spelling of Saint Joseph's University in all contexts will help eliminate any confusion among higher education and other public constituencies.

Style information for print, electronic and digital media is available at www.sju.edu/marcomm. It includes accepted abbreviations of the corporate name (e.g., "SJU" or "St. Joe's" in headlines or certain informal references) as well as prohibited usages (e.g., partial abbreviations such as "St. Joseph's" or "Saint Joe's").

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Credentials for media covering Saint Joseph's at Hagan Arena should be made at least 24 hours in advance by contacting Marie Wozniak.

Priority is given to daily newspapers, radio/TV stations and other media who cover Saint Joseph's and its opponents on a regular basis. Internet sites and agencies that will be considered for credentials include those of national cable networks or established publications. Internet sites representing local or regional media outlets will be provided credentials on a space-available basis. Websites that sponsor "message boards" or "chat rooms" where people are able to post anonymous information are ineligible for consideration of credentials. Credentials will only be issued to those 18 years of age and older.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS

All photographers attending Saint Joseph's home basketball games must be credentialed. Requests for credentials should be made in at least 24 hours in advance to Marie Wozniak. Due to space demands, access to freelance photographers is limited.

SCOUT CREDENTIALS

Credentials for NBA scouts must be requested at least 48 hours in advance of the game by contacting Marie Wozniak.

RADIO POLICY

Access to phone lines is available for radio stations designated as the primary visiting outlet. ISDN, POTS and ethernet connections are available. Visiting radio stations wishing to broadcast the game should contact Marie Wozniak at (610) 660-1727 or mwozniak@sju.edu to make arrangements.

INTERVIEWS

All requests for interviews with Phil Martelli and the Saint Joseph's players must be arranged through Marie Wozniak. Advance notice of at least 24 hours is preferred, but every attempt will be made to accommodate all requests. Players will not be available for interviews on game day, except for post-game interviews.

PRESS ROW

Only accredited members of the media and accredited scouts will be issued credentials to cover Saint Joseph's basketball, and only those with passes will be permitted to sit in press seating. Members of the media are reminded that press row is a working area and cheering for either team will not be tolerated.

MEDIA SERVICES

Saint Joseph's and opponent's game notes, statistics, Atlantic 10 Conference notes and game programs will be available to working members of the media. Halftime statistics will be available in the media room at Hagan Arena and will also be distributed on press row. Complete Saint Joseph's game notes will be available 24 hours prior to the game on SJUHawks.com.
